AUTO PLUNGES OVER EMBANKMENT ONE KILLED

Michael Pretko, aged 45 years, of Shenandoah was instantly killed last evening when a McFarland touring car, owned and driven by John Cisloukousky, a Shenandoah saloon keeper, plunged over an embankment about four hundred yards east of St. Nicholas. The accident happened around 11 o'clock as the party were homeward bound. The driver, together with two sons, escaped injury, while Edward and Louis Chisalosky, Joseph Budanavage and John Nevarosky were badly shaken up and received bruises about the body.

Two young fellows who gave their names as Miles and Bowman were passing on their way to Shenandoah a short while after the accident. They noticed the upturned car and heard the cries for help. Coming to town they notified George Post, the local shoe dealer, who immediately got in touch with Chief of Police McLaughlin and Drs. Riley and Bissell, who went to the scene in the Post automobile. The dead and injured persons weer removed to their homes in Shenandoah by way of trolley car.

ALLIES DRIVING INTO BELGIUM

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FLANDERS, Oct. 16.—Allied forces driving into Belgium have pushed their wedge across the road from Bruges to Courtrai, severing another artery of communication to the U-boat bases. French cavalry has swept over Lichterzelds and Phourst, advancing toward Bruges and the sea. The southern end of the fighting front Lenine has been taken and Haig's men are in the neighborhood of Hawvourbin, three miles from Lille.

NOTICE

The following additional rules and regulations of the Board of Health take effect immediately and until further notice.

All trolley cars shall keep the windows open on one side of the car.

All funerals shall be absolutely private. No crowding shall be permitted in the corpse house and only immediate relatives shall be permitted therein.

None but immediate relatives shall attend funerals.

Spitting on pavements or in public places is absolutely prohibited.

Violation of these orders will result in immediate arrest.

No excuse will be taken.

BOARD OF HEALTH MEANS BUSINESS EVERY TIME

Our Board of Health is doing its duty and in the performance of such will be obliged to have recourse to the law but that doesn't deter it.

Perusal of our advertising columns intimates some of our saloon keepers are working the back door overtime in plying the beer business although requested by the State and local Board of Health to close.

THE SALOON KEEPER WHO DISOBEYS THIS ORDER FROM TODAY ON WILL BE KNOWN AND PROSECUTED AND THAT MEANS A LICENSE INVOLVED.

The public health is superior to everything and it must be preserved.

Rag men are also asked to stop gathering rags, paper, etc., for the present. Should they disobey they will be prosecuted.

All good citizens will assist the Board of Health and not disobey. However, that will be all right. If you would get into the meshes of the law, just disobey.

AMERICANS BATTERING ANOTHER BREACH

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES NORTH OF VERDUN, Oct. 16.—Americans are battering another breach in the Kleinhilde line in the region of St. George. The enemy is fighting with the utmost resperation. A break between the Aisne and the Meuse rivers means collapse to the entire German front in the region.

Should the Americans break through here the enemy's left flank would be shattered and the effect probably be felt along the line which has been swung backward by recent assaults of the Allies further north.

YANKS MOPPING UP ENEMY

WITH THE AMERICAN FIRST ARMY, Oct. 16.—Plunging through belts of German wire in the face of showers of hand grenades the men of the First Army have mopped up grandly, crossed the path through the Argonne and are pushing on.

At the start of the present phase of the assault the Americans took the jump at 8:30 in the morning and gained their first objective at some points with great rapidity. In many cases there was only slight opposition due to the deadlines of the Yank artillery fire.

PRES'T WILSON OUTPLAYED ENEMY

PARIS, Oct. 16.—Paris newspapers greeted President Wilson's reply to Germany with strong approved.

"Wilson doesn't let things drag. The latest document is so clear that it will repoice all the Allies because it responds to their wishes," says La Liberte. "All vulgarly spoken Germans thought they had put the President in their pockets but Wilson outplayed them."

HOHENZOLLERN POWER WILL SOON CRUMBLE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Upon a growing dissatisfaction in Germany over Kaiser rule, authorities here to-day based the view that the Hohenzollern power will soon crumble and that President Wilson's terms will then be accepted.

Both openly and guardedly the Teuton press is voicing its dissatisfaction with things as they are in Teuton political life.

The comment expressing discontent with the Kaiser's power is now becoming so general that all powerful German censors apparently do not dare kill it.

BRUSSELS MAY BE SEAT OF PEACE CONFERENCE

LONDON, Oct. 16 — Before Germany can obtain an armistice she must surrender unconditionally and the terms of such a surrender, according to information reliably given here today, are defined as follows:

Complete disarmament and disbanding of the armies.

Occupation of Metz, Maimz and other German towns.

Military authorities think it also necessary for the Germans to surrend their fleet and permit the Allies to occupy Heligoland.

Brussels is favored as the meeting place for a peace conference.

95 ARMY SURGEONS IN THE COUNTY

With the work of 95 army surgeons showing splendid results and the arrived of a force of 50 more eagerly awaited from Camp Crane, Allentown, it is believed that the influenza and pneumonia epidemic in the county has reached its height and will be dissipated in a week or ten days.

Reports to-day showed that the epiremic is on the wane in the county and the surgeons are now of the opinion, officially stated, that it reached the creast on October 14th when there were over 22,000 cases in the county. This number has been officially decreasd during the past 24 hours and further decreases are anticipated today but no realization in the vigilance or quarantine measures will be permitted and it is hoped that the disease will be stamped out within the next forthnight.

The whole territory from Tamaqua to Tamanend and from Tamaqua to Tower City reports a decrease to-day. The official number of cases were as follows: Shamokin 3,500; Mt. Carmel Kulpmont and Locust Dale 1,000; Locust Gap 45; Ashland 975; Girardville 400; Gordon 139; Mahanoy Plane 191; Maizeville 123; Gilberton 145; Frackville 480; Middleport 150; Kaskawilliam 20; Silfer Creek 22; Tucker Hill 12; Valley Furnace 8; Naw Philadelphia 320; Cumbola 110; Port Carbon 225; St. Clair 250; Arnouts Addition 20; Shenandoah 85; Mahanoy City 1,164; Tuscarora 66; Maryd 40; Pottsville 1,400; Tamaqua 1,200; Schuylkill Haven 800; Orwigsburg 300; Minersville 2,000; Branchdale 20; Llewllyn 160; Pinegrove 500; Tower City 700; Tremont 700; Newtown 162; and Donaldson 200.

In the west and about the collieries there are the following: Valley View 250; Lykens 200; Lincoln 31; Good Springs 37; and Williamstown 200.

Deaths reported were as follows: Pottsville 25; Frackville 7; Minersville 11; Schuylkill Haven 6; Tamaqua 3; Gilberton 3; Middleport 2; and Maizeville 1; and about 20 more scattered through the other sections of the county.

The disease seems to be travelling west and all sections in the western end of the county have reached about the height of the disease. In the eastern end of the county it is subsiding and work is now being centered so as to prevent a recurrence.

There is no intimation given as to when the quarantine will be lifted, as the surgeons expect that the danger will remain to the district for a period of a week or ten days at least.

Several collieries in the western end of the county and the Hecksherville Valley were idle to-day cutting down the production considerably.

THE MOST NEEDED INVESTMENT IN THE WORLD

(Publicity Committee)

Mahanoy City's quota in the Fourth Liberty Loan is exactly twice the amount that we we asked to subscribe in the last or Third Liberty Loan Drive. We not only did our duty during the Third, but over-subscribed our allotment by almost 30 per cent. We must and shall do as well, or even better in the Fourth.

It is with regret that the committee's report, that with the Drive more than half over, actually less than one-third of our share has been taken to date. We have to work doubly hard, give doubly as much, in order not to have our city fall back of its portion of this vital national request. There is no household in the community, no matter how small, how large, how wealthy, or how poor, who dare say, I cannot, will not, buy a bond. There is no individual, no matter what sacrifice, he or she might have made, so far in this war, even if it be the actual giving up a life of a son, who will permit themselves to say—I have done all I intend to, no, I cannot afford to do any more—no matter how much you have done, remember, all that is past and your government now asks you to come forward again. This loan may be the last, it may be the actual turning point in this great war, it may spell the difference between defeat and victory. For our country, not to go over the top, on this Fourth Liberty Lan, would be the direst of calamities.

With our boys to-day—almost 2,000,000 strong in France driving the despicable Hun before them like rabbits, cutting through miles of wire entanglements, cracking, splitting, and shattering the much vaunted Hindenburg line, almost at will, it would be the height of unpatriotism, the depths of ingratitude, not to back them with our very last penny and our very last material assistance. Can you hold your head up with the insignia upon you, and the guilt that you failed your country, your boys, at this critical period of our nation's history? We know you will not fail, we know that before the time expires, Mahanoy City will do her share and even more, as she has always done in the past. Remember, that the solicitor may be able to call at your house only once. Don't wait for him to come back. Go to your bank at once and buy to your very utmost, buy all you can possibly pay for, for the next six months to come. It is your duty, it is your privilege, it is your solemn obligation to your country, yourself, and the flag that shields and protects you. Remember, that the bonds of your own country, the most powerful nation under the sun, is the safest, the sa est, the most practical, and just no the most needed investment in t world.

EPIDEMIC INFLUENZA

What is epidemic influenza? Is it something new? Does it come from Spain?

It is a contagious cold, accommpanied by pain in the head, eyes, ears, back.

It was brought to this country from Valencia, Spain, as early as 1647. There were epidemics here in 1889 starting in the orient, thence to Russia, thence to the United States. There is no reason to believe it came from Spain.

How can epidemic influenza be recognized?

The general symptoms are a cold, cough and fever, dizziness, body pains, tendency to vomit, congested eyes and nose.

What is its course? Do people die of it?

The fever lasts from 3 to 4 days. Influenza is fought with general success. When complications occur death follows shortly.

What is the cause of the disease and how is it spread?

It is a germ wafted in the air. It is found in dust and spumen and resembles the pneumonia germ. It spreads from person to person. Spitting on sidewalks is a vehicle for carrying the germ.

What should be done by those who catch the disease?

Go to bed at once. Sleep alone. Engage the services of a first-class physician. Those who attend victims should wear masks.

Will a person who has had influenza "catch" the disease again?

Yes. The King of Spain had two attacks 30 years apart.

How can we guard against the disease?

Keep your body well so as to fight the germs. Exercise, play, work and eat wholesome food. Keep out of the crowd. Breathe deeply.

"Cover up each cough and sneeze,
If you don't you'll spread disease."

ENEMY IN FULL RETREAT

The enemy is in full retreat. Half a million of him. Much fighting in the open is possible, and hordes of prisoners are being taken by the allied forces. The Germans are reaping the whirlwind.

A dollar hoarded when the country calls for liberty bond loans will not be worth a red cent if the Kaiser wins this war and conquers America. As Germany did to Belgium she would do to America and Americans. Don't believe otherwise. To do so is living in a "fool's paradise."

"No Boche can shoot the suit off my lieutenant and get away with it," observed a Yankee corporal as he brought in eight enemy soldiers, according to a cable item. Let us resolve that "no German can put a crimp in our $6,000,000,000 loan and get away with it." Then we will be fit companions for the corporal in khaki.

Mr. Moran drove Mrs. Janisky to the cemetery where she arrived just as the remains were about to be buried into the grave,

WOMAN'S NERVES MADE STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Winona, Minn.—"I suffered for more than a year from nervousness, and was so bad I could not rest at night—would lie awake and get so nervous I would have to get up and walk around and in the morning would be all tired out. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thought I would try it. My nervousness soon left me. I sleep well and feel fine in the morning and able to do my work. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to make weak nerves strong."—Mrs. ALBERT SULTZE, 603 Olmstead St., Winona, Minn.

How often do we hear the expression among women, "I am so nervous, I cannot sleep," or "it seems as though I should fly." Such women should profit by Mrs. Sultze's experience and give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For forty years it has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

9,000 CASES UNDER TREATMENT IN COUNTY

POTTSVILLE, Oct. 15—Pneumonia was gaining steadily in the western section of the county, according to the reports issued from the headquarters of the Health authorities in the P. & R. C. & I. Co. building here today. It was estimated that at present there are about 9,000 serious cases in the county under treatment in the new emergency and general hospitals and two new hospitals were opened during the day at Middleport and Lykens.

About 50 deaths occurred in the county during the last 24 hours, most of them being in hospitals in the plague centers and nearly all all of the patients being aliens.

A contingent of 42 more physicians and surgeons from Camp Crane under the command of Colonel Lawrence who fought the plague at Camp Meade and Camp Lee, and they were assigned to posts throughout the county. There were 6 majors and seven captains in the contingent, making a total of 102 imported doctors who are now working in the field.

The report issued from the headquarters show htat mos tof the new cases are being developed in Tower City, Tremont, Lykens, Williamstown, Hegins, Girardville, Ashland, Gordon and other points in the Mahanoy Valley, where the disease seems to be sweeping toward the west.

An entirely new version of "pneumonia" which is causing all the deaths is being found as the result of postmortem and antemortem operations. It is found that the lung suffers from a sort of ameloid degeneration, and that after death the lung substance assumes the character of jelly, the air passages being closed and death coming after unconsciousness by slow strangulation.

There were six deaths during the night at Minersville and only two at Frackville showing the original plague spots to be well under treatment at the prseent time and the disease under control in other sections.

The number of cases reported at headquarters was as follows: Minersville, 1,00;, Pinegrove, 525; Hegins, 250; Tower City, 715; Williamstown, 200; Lykens, 200; Donaldson, 200; Tremont, 700; Newtown, 160; Good Springs, 27; Lincoln, 20; Lorberry, 14; Ashland, 1,000; Mahanoy City, 1200; Girardville, 400; Gordon, 139; Mahanoy Plane, 191; Maizeville, 123; Gilberton, 118; Frackville, 500; Middleport 100; Kaska 20; Tucker Hill, 7; Silver Creek, 15; Tamaqua, 600; Valley Furnace, 8; New Philadelphia, 300; Cumbola, 100; Port Carbon, 219; and Arnout Addition, 200.

Money Makes the Ships Go

By CHARLES M. SCHWAB

Despite the fact that we have made real progress in shipbuilding, it must be remembered by every patriotic American that the need for ships increases proportionately with the increase in the size of our fighting forces overseas. Transporting troops to Europe is only one-fourth of the task that our shipping facilities must bear. The other three-fourths is the carrying of supplies and munitions of war.

Ships cannot be built without money. In war time it takes a great deal of money. Undoubtedly after the war is over the ships that we are building now will pay for themselves many times over. But the immediate need is money and the whole-hearted support of the entire nation.

If the American people could visualize what has been done in our shipyards with the money that they invested in the first Liberty Loans, I am sure they would be as proud and as enthusiastic as I am. The ships that we have built and are building should persuade the most cautious investor to put his money into Liberty Bonds of the fourth issue.

Suggestions to Women "Just Ready to Drop"

When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired out next morning as when you went to bed, you need help. Vinol will help you just as it did these two women. Why not try it?

HERE IS PROOF

Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I keep house for my husband and myself and I got into a weak, run-down, nervous condition and no appetite. I heard how Vinol helped others and tried it and it built me up so I am strong, have a good appetite and feel better in every way." — Mrs. James Croker.

Holmdel, N.J.

"I live on a farm and am a hard working woman and for weak, run-down, overworked conditions have found nothing that will create an appetite, build me up and make me strong equal to Vinol. It helped several others in our neighborhood, too." —Mrs. Thomas Ellis.

For all run-down, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like Vinol.

"SPEED UP" IN LIBERTY LOAN

POTTSVILLE, Octo. 16 — General instructions were forwarded to all the Regional Directors, District and ward chairman to "speed up" during the remaining three days of the campaign. Chairman D. W. Kaercher, of the county organization, was in conference to-day with the heads of the Third Federal Reserve District at Philadelphia, and some very drastic measures were decided upon to put the loan "over the top" in Schuylkill and several other counties, which are falling behind, but it will take herculean work, especially in Schuylkill and every solicitor is urged to jump in and close the canvass of his district as soon as possible so that the campaign should be wound up by Friday night, and the final day, devoted to a roundup of the bond slackers who have not yet subscribed.

Campaign Will Close With Rush

As soon as word was received of the proposed increase to be allowed the miners, an unprecedented subscription was expected from the miners in the county. Conferences of the miners' heads and government officials presaged an increase and it was upon the news of this concession that the county organization, in and about the mining regions, expected this unprecedented jump.

COL. BOONE

The first Schuylkill County boy to rise to the rank of Colonel is Dr. Joel Boone, of St. Clair, a son-in-law of Judge R. H. Koch, of the Schuylkill County Courts. Dr. Boone was twice cited for gallantry at Bellieu Wood near Chateau-Thierry and has been appointed a Colonel and placed as assistant Divisional Surgeon to the Marines Division in France.

BABY'S LOT NOT HAPPY ONE

Small Wonder That So Many Children of the Puritans Ended Their Earthly Career Early.

There is no doubt of the strength and endurance of the Puritan babies which survived the hardships of the first few months of their lives. The Puritans came to America some time before modern heating appliances were scheduled to arrive, and their winter days and nights could have been little less than one long shiver.

If his elders suffered so much discomfort, what must have been the hardship of the newest baby who, a few days after his arrival in this world, was taken to the coldest part of it—the bleak little Puritan meeting house—which never knew anything better than heatless days? "This expedition often completed the baby's earthly career," says Laura E. Richards, in recounting the tribulations of the Puritan junior population. We think of the hardiness of the early Puritan children, but this writer says, "Of Judge Sewall's 14 children, but three survived him, a majority dying in infancy; and of the 15 children of his friend, Cotton Mather, but two survived their father." The infant mortality due to exposure may be readily conjectured.

In addition to the visit to the cold meeting house, the baby must steel himself to face the greater or lesser ailments of babyhood—and their remedies. One of these remedies, which admirably asserts the spirit of the times, was reserved as a cure for fits or "rickets," the trouble was called, and was known as "snail water." This concoction, containing a peck of garden shell snails, was made doubly effective by adding a quart of [illegible]ated earthworms.

SLEEP AS AID TO LONGEVITY

Long Hours in Bed May Mean Long Life, But the Question Arises, Is It Worth It?

The farmer's wife at Market Bosworth, England, who, "though in perfect physical health," has remained in bed for three years may hold that if we all spent more time in bed we should live much longer. This theory is borne out by the experience of two sisters of Brillat-Savarin, who nearly attained a hundred years. They lived at a country house belonging to the author of the "Physiologie du Gout," which he used only in September and October. They spent ten months of the year in bed, getting up two days before his arrival, and living a normal life during his stay. On his departure they would say: "Goodby until next September, Anthelme. We are going to bed." One of them died at the age of ninety-nine, as she was finishing dinner, her last words being, "Hurry up with the dessert."

On the other hand, some Swiss doctors say that the amount of sleep should be regulated by altitude. Too much sleep, they maintain, is as harmful as too much drink. In low-lying districts seven hours' slumber may be taken with impunity, but up in the mountains five hours' is quite enough. These sleep specialists also ban the practice of remaining in bed in the morning, half awake, and insist on the necessity of arising as soon as sleep fails.

Hawk Works Hard for Living.

The hawk is a successful fisherman, and were its task done with the catching of a fish its lot would be an enviable one. But a live fish is not desirable as the piece de resistance of a hawk dinner, so the bird that catches one always flies around until the fish is dead. This, we are told, is the invariable practice.

Sometimes a fish expires quickly, while at other times a hawk must fly around for hours before it can return home to the waiting family. There have been times when the fish have displayed stamina greater than the birds. This may explain why hawks seldom pounce on the croaker, most tenacious of life of all fish in the waters roundabout.

There is a well-attested instance of a hawk which started to fly around with a croaker it had caught and, after flapping about a whole afternoon and half a night, fell exhausted on the beach. Fishermen who were attracted by the unusual occurrence found the hawk dead while the croaker, fast in the lifeless talons, had not croaked.

Tiger's Amazing Feat.

"The strength and vitality of a full-grown tiger are amazing," asserts a wild-game hunter, in Chicago American. "I had occasion to spend the night a short time ago in a place where a tiger had performed some remarkable feats. Just at dusk one of these marauders visited the village and discovered a cow and her six-months-old calf in a pen which had been excavated in the side of a hill and adjoined a house. There was no possible way to enter the inclosure except by a door opening from the main part of the dwelling or to descend from above. The tiger jumped from the roof upon the neck of the heifer, killing it instantly, and the inmates of the house opened the door just in time to see the animal throw the calf out bodily and leap after it himself. I measured the embankment and found the exact height was 12½ feet."

NOW KNOWS WHAT A LEA IS

The lowing herd wound slowly o'er the lea. The day had been a delightful one for walking and as we swung along in our tweeds and hobnail shoes, a heavy stick in our hand, we drank deep from nature's fount, learning many things. As the mild-eyed cows made their leisurely way down the road and we stood aside to watch them pass, the old lines ran through our mind, vaguely yet with new appropriateness. It never before had occurred to us that we had only the loosest conception of what a lea was, and now we resolved to find out.

Retracing our steps, we followed the lowing herd to a pleasant farmstead with a windmill, a silo, and a large barn inscribed, "Grade A Pasteurized Dairy," where we found the Grade A pasteurized dairyman, by name Ole Yensen. "Are these," we asked, "your Grade A pasteurized cows?" "Sure," said Mr. Yensen; "all bane Holstein stock and not a plugged one in the bunch."

"And where is the lea o'er which they wander?"

Mr. Yensen regarded us with suspicion. Finally he said: "Ay bane have a grade cow killed on a grade crossing once. A man by name Lee he claimed him and das railroad paid him saventy-fi' dollar and Ay get nothing. He bane move away now. Ay don't know where he bane gone and Ay don't care."

We know now what a lea is, but we didn't get it from Yensen.—Newark News.

GIVE CREDIT TO CERVANTES

Immortal Author of "Don Quixote" Responsible for Many of Our Most Famous Sayings.

With the thought of yesterday's epigrammatists in mind, it should be set to record that no one has handed down to this age more homely and immortal sayings than Cervantes. "Don Quixote" is full of them: "Why do you lead on a wild goose chase?" "Sure as a gun;" Within a stone's throw;" "Little said is soonest mended;" "There is no love lost between us;" "Honesty is the best policy;" "All is not gold that glitters;" "A word to the wise is sufficient;" "The pot calls the kettle black;" "Counting your chickens before they are hatched;" "My thoughts ran a-wool gathering," and "As secret as the grave."

One need not look far behind to find "mad as a March hare" also attributed to this prolific Spaniard, but really it was an inspiration of the English poet, John Skelton, who lived in the time of Edward IV. "Set the cart before the horse," as well as "I have other fish to fry," comes from sixteenth century Rabelais, while "A bird in hand is worth two in the bush" goes all the way back to Plutarch.

In "Little Old New York."

If a certain actor had accompanied a party of round-the-towners the other night he would have been either thrilled or embarrassed, says New York Sun. After the theater the party went to the Waldorf roof and saw one of the actor's former wives the center of a gay, laughing party. The next stop was at the Astor roof where there was another former wife of the same actor dining with a handsome young gallant who danced divinely and at the last stop on the Majestic roof was the third former wife giving a dinner to several women and two French army officers. It was hard to tell which was the most beautiful. They all seemed happy. It is reminded of another actor who went to another theater than his own to see a play. He was seated next to a former wife and her husband. They all chatted pleasantly together and later supped together. A strange town—this New York.

American Invented Electric Fan.

Michael Faraday devised the electro-magnetic rotation apparatus in the year 1822. Barlow in 1823 produced the rotation of a star wheel placed in the field of a strong magnet.

These devices were very crude and simple, however, and developed infinitesimal power. Undoubtedly the first electric motor employing magnets wound with many turns of wire, and also comprising a motor which utilized both permanent steel magnets and electro-magnets, was that perfected by Prof. Joseph Henry of Princeton university, in the year 1831. Henry produced reciprocating motion as well as the rotary motion by electro-magnetic means.

Henry's motor, according to Electrical Experimenter, was the forerunner of the present day electric motor.

Philippines Grew Best Hemp.

Hemp may grow all over the world, but the famous Philippine fields are the ones we know best as yet. They have a real monopoly on the crop, as their soil seems to be especially adapted for it. The abaca, as they call it, looks very much like the banana tree. They belong to the same family, but the fruit of the hemp tree is not edible, and the fiber of the banana is not strong enough to use.

The very best quality of hemp grown in the Philippines comes from the fields about Mount Mayon in Luzon. The dust and ashes of this majestic volcano have formed the most perfect soil for its culture, a soil that is found nowhere else in the world.

HOW TO USE VICK'S VAPORUB IN TREATING SPANISH INFLUENZA

The Influenza Germs Attack the Lining of the Air Passages. When Vapo Rub is Applied Over Throat and Chest the Medicated Vapors Loosen the Phlegm, Open the Air Passages and Stimulate the Mucous Membrane to Throw Off the Germs.

In Addition, Vapo Rub is Absorbed Through and Stimulates the Skin, Attracting the Blood to the Surface and Thus Aids in Reducing the Congestion Within.

CALL A PHYSICIAN—GO TO BED—STAY QUIET—DON'T WORRY

There is no Occasion for Panic—Influenza Has a Very Low Percentage of Fatalities, Not Over One Death out of Every Four Hundred Cases, According to the N. C. Board of Health. The Chief Danger Lies in Complications Arising, Attacking Principally Patients in a Run-Down Condition—Those Who Don't go to Bed Soon Enough or Those Who get up too Early.

Spanish Influenza which appeared in Spain in May has all the appearance of grip or la grippe, which has swept over the world in numerous epidemics as far back as history runs. Hippocrates refers to an epidemic in 412 B. C. which is regarded by many to have been influenza. Every century has had its attacks. Beginning with 1831, this country has had five epidemics, the last in 1889-90.

THE SYMPTOMS

Grip, or influenza as it is now called, usually begins with a chill followed by aching, feverishness and sometimes nausea and dizziness and a general feeling of weakness and depression. The temperature is from 100 to 104, and the fever usually lasts from three to five days. The germs attack the mucous membrane or lining of the air passages—nose, throat and bronchial tubes—there is usually a hard cough, especially bad at night, often times a sore throat or tonsilitis, and frequently all the appearances of a severe head cold.

THE TREATMENT

Go to bed at the first symptoms, not only for your own sake but to avoid spreading the disease to others—take a purgative, eat plenty of nourishing food, remain perfectly quiet and on't worry. Quinine, aspirin or Dover's Powder, etc., may be administered by the physician's directions to relieve the aching. But there is no cure or specific for influenza—the disease must run its course, but nature herself will throw off the attack if only you keep up your strength. The chief danger lies in the complications which may arise. Influenza so weakens the bodily resistance that there is danger of pneumonia or bronchitis developing and sometimes inflamamtion of the middle ear or heart affections. For these reasons, it is very important that the patient remain in bed until his strength returns—stay in bed at least two days or more after the fever has left you, or if you are over 50 or not strong, stay in bed four days or more, according to the severity of the attack.

EXTERNAL APPLICATIONS

In order to stimulate the lining of the air passages to throw off the grip germs, to aid in loosening the phlegm and keeping the air passages open, thus making the breathing easier, ick's Vapo Rub will be found effective. Hot, wet towels should be applied over the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores. Then Vapo Rub should be rubbed in over the parts until the skin is red, spread on thickly and covered with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around around the neck as the heat of the body liberates the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors, inhaled with each breath, carry the medication directly to the parts affected. At the same time, Vapo Rub is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, attracting the blood to the surface and thus aids in relieving the congestion within.

HOW TO AVOID THE DISEASE

Evidence seems to prove that this is a germ disease, spread principally by human contact, chiefly through coughing, sneezing or spitting. So avoid persons having colds, which means avoiding crowds — common drinking cups, roller towels, etc. Keep up your bodily strength by plenty of exercise in the open air, and good food. Above all, keep free from colds, as colds irritate the lining of the air passages and render them much better breeding places for the germs.

Use Vick's Vapo Rub at the very first sign of a cold. For a head cold, melt a little in a spoon and inhale the vapors, or better still, use Vapo Rub in a benzoin steam kettle. If this is not available, use an ordinary teakettle. Fill half ull of boiling water, put in half a teaspoon of Vapo Rub from time to time—keep the kettle just slowly boiling, and inhale the steam arising.

NOTE—Vick's Vapo Rub is the discovrey of a North Carolina druggist, who found how to combine in salve form Menthol and Camphor with such essential oils as Eucalyptus, Thyme, Cubebs, etc., so that when the salve is applied to the body heat, these ingredients are liberated in the form of vapors.

Vapo Rub is comparatively new in New York, New England and a few western states, where it is just now being introduced. In other sections of the country, however, it is the standard home remedy in over a million homes for all forms of cold troubles—more than six million jars were sold last year.

It is particularly recommended for children's croup or colds, since it is externally applied and, therefore, can be used as freely as desired without the slightest harmful effects. Vapo Rub can be had in three sizes, 30c, 60c and $1.20, at all druggists. adv

"CHEER UP"

For years the American people were desperately interested in the popular science of making money, then the war, and for a time we have all been busy in the business of killing.

At this hour of writing we are in the presence of a great victory and in victory the thinking man is always sad.

Our boys on the battlefield begin when the bugle calls---and quit when God calls, and not before.

Our boys "over there" do their hardest work long before the sun is up. They have what Grant called "Four o'clock courage."

They dig ditches, peel potatoes, sleep out under the stars---they are dirty, hungry and tired---they are always hopeful and brave.

Our boys do not kick or complain of their work, the only favor they ask is a bath.

They are not always cheerful---no human could be cheerful under such circumstances.

Let us all put on the cheer belt and get on the job.

Avoid Spanish Influenza Build Fighting Strength with Father John's Medicine

If you find yourself tired, weak or losing flesh this warning should be heeded promptly. You are in real and very great danger because the germ of this epidemic is specially contagious and in your weakened condition should you come in contact with it you would fall an easy vcitim.

The commonsense preventive is to begin taking Father John's Medicine at once because the pure food elements of which this old-fashioned, wholesome body-builder is made are easily taken up by the system and turned into vital, resisting energy; giving you fighting strength to ward off the influenza germ. The gentle laxative effects of Father John's Medicine drives out impurities.

Remember, Father John's Medicine is not a stimulant. It is guaranteed free from alcohol or dangerous drugs. adv

SCHUYLKILL COUNTY WILL DO ITS BIT

Practically every coal corporation in the county, excepting the Reading, had made its canvas of the employees and the solicitation of the employees of the big mills, factories and shop industries is under way, with the result that nearly 15,000 subscriptions have been taken which do not appear in the bank clearances to date. These, it is expected, will add at least $2,000,000 to the clearances, and as there is now nearly $25,000,000 reported to the Federal Reserve Bank, less than half the quota remains to be raised through the subscriptions in the mining districts that have not yet been touched, the women's subscriptions which have not yet been recorded, and the corporation "cuts" some of which, it is authoritatively stated, will be larger than ever before.

County Will Do Its Bit

Officials in charge of the Fourth Loan Campaign are satisfied that a fine showing will be made if every chairman does his bit, and accordingly the following notice was handed along as received by Chairman Kaercher from the officials of the Third Federal District:

"The Liberty Loan Committees and their army of workers enter upon the last lap of the campaign with a grim determination to bring ont of the hitherto most discouraging situation a successful consummation of the stupendous undertaking assigned them. In spite of continued illness among the chairmen and members of the committees and the depression prevailing throughout the country, the spirit is wonderful, and they are eager to overcome the many deterrent factors which they have most unexpectedly been called to face. In this crisis every one of us is on his mettle in a way not before anticipated. Each of us has a personal responsibility which can only be discharged by a one hundred per cent. answer when we shall send a one word message to the boys over there "SUCCESS."

EXHIBITS ARE MADE LIFELIKE

Mounting of Natural History Objects In Their Native Surroundings Add to Their Interest.

In the development of the modern museum three stages have been recognized—that of the collection of objects for record, that of supplying materials for research and that of applying the collections to public education. The educational idea is now being developed by instructive display arrangement, loan exhibits for public and private schools and special lectures. The most notable feature is the mounting of natural history objects in the midst of their native surroundings, and much attention is being given at large museums—such as the American Museum of Natural History of New York—to grouping animals in their natural environment of shrubs, trees, flowers, rocks and other objects. In the new exhibition halls of the museum of the California Academy of Sciences, the case for a large mammal or bird habitat group is 25 feet long, 12 deep and 18 high, with a plate glass front 15 feet long and 10 high. Each of the two halls—one devoted entirely to California mammals and the other to California birds—is 180 feet long by 60 wide and 11 of the large cases have been placed in the mammal hall with six in the bird hall. Skylight illumination gives greatpr brightness in the cases than outside, preventing troublesome reflection from the glass. As a representative group may be taken that of the San Joaquin valley elk, a species of deer now preserved in a few reservations, and this is shown by several individuals standing or crouching in the grass near tree-bordered water, with low hills in the distance, the painted background seeming a continuation of the real scenery.

ON BASIS OF COMPROMISE

Couple's Religious Differences, Which Caused Trouble Once a Year, Settled In Peculiar Manner.

Compromise where political and religious antagonisms are concerned is evidently possible in Belfast, according to the testimony of a recent visitor to that town. One day she had occasion to call at a house where a woman of the Roman Catholic faith had married a Protestant husband. On one side of the mantelshelf was a bust of the pope, on the other a bust of William of Orange. "I suppose you find it very difficult to agree at times?" inquired the visitor. "No," was the ready reply; "we only differ once a year, on the Boyne anniversary, when my husband comes home drunk and smashes my bust of the pope." "Then I suppose you return the compliment by smashing his William of Orange?" "Not at all—I put it in pawn and buy another bust of the pope with the money," was the unexpected answer.—Manchester (Eng.) Guardian.

The Census In Ancient Times.

While the greatest strides in the advance of vital statistics as a science have been made in recent years, their origin may be traced to centuries before Christ. Indeed, Herodotus tells us of a census of Egypt taken about 3050 B. C. for the purpose of making arrangements for the construction of the Pyramids. Elsewhere this same author refers to a second census, taken about 1400 B. C. in Egypt by Rameses II for the purpose of reapportioning all the land of Egypt among his subjects. The Bible tells us that Moses counted the tribes of Israel to determine their fighting strength and that David, about 1018 B. C., took a census for the same purpose. There is a record of a census taken in China about 1200 B. C., when data of the provinces were collected by Uking.—S. W. Wynne, Michigan Bulletin of Vital Statistics.

Waste of Human Material.

Any man who has been in the world forty-five years or more should be a valuable employee. For a man to be shelved at forty-five is wrong, very wrong. For a man to lose confidence in himself because he is forty-five or thereabouts is absurd.

The man who has been in the world forty-five years has had a vast amount of experience and has had the opportunity to observe much that could be turned to good account. The trouble with us is that we do not know where to take our goods to market, or at least we do not know the best market in which to dispose of our goods.

There is a great waste of human material because of its misplacement.

We give more attention to the salesmanship problem in relation to goods than to the infinitely more important subject of human material.—New York Mail.

Sleep Should Be Undisturbed.

People are beginning to realize that sound sleep isn't obtainable in a bed that rattles or squeaks or that shocks the nerves into semi-wakefulness by unusual slippings of the springs or unexpected creakings. The advent of the separate bed and the banishing of the double bed into the limbo of warming pans and nightcaps is a distinct advance from the standpoint of hygiene, sanitation and more rational sleeping habits. When separate beds, or, better still, separate sleeping chambers, are in universal use, men and women, especially nervous men and women, and delicate children, will get a good deal more sleep than they do at present; they'll derive more benefit from the sleep they do get. All this will make it easier for them to do with considerably less sleep than they now require.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

MONASTERIES HIGH IN AIR

Greek Religious Buildings Constructed in the Fourteenth Century, are Difficult of Access.

Perched lightly on the dizzy summits of the cliffs of Meteora are the monasteries of the air. They are simple buildings, these old Greek monasteries, austere and unadorned, and if they are not literally resting on air certainly they are as far as is practicable from the earth and its influences.

To reach the monasteries it seems as if an airplane would be needed, for they are built each on a separate rock several hundred feet high. The cliff sides rise in perpendicular steepness, which would baffle the most daring of mountain climbers. Only when the cliffs are nearly approached can the tiny ladders and ropes which bind the peaks to the valley be seen. The old monasteries were built, they tell us, in the fourteenth century, yet no substitute for the medieval method of ascent has ever been made. Convenience and comfort are not sought by the monks, and tourists like the novelty of climbing the frail swinging ladder or of being hauled up in a jolting cage propelled by a rope.

Some of the seven monasteries may not be visited by the public; the halls and altars of the others are open to the inspection of those who will risk their necks for the privilege of the sight. Once, the monks say, there were over twenty of these monasteries among the clouds, but the fate of all but the seven is hidden in mystery and their very existence is doubtful.—Chicago Daily News.

HAD BEGINNING IN ROMANCE

Pretty Legendary Story Concerning Tea That Dates Some 2,000 Years Before Christ.

The Chinese claim to be the first users of tea as a drink, and how it originated is told in a pretty little legend that dates back 2,000 years before the coming of Christ.

A daughter of a then reigning sovereign fell in love with a young nobleman, whose inferior birth excluded him from marrying her. They managed to exchange glances, and he occasionally gathered a few blossoms and had them conveyed to her.

One day in the palace garden the lovers met, and the young man endeavored to give her a few flowers; but so keen was the watchfulness of her attendants that all she could grasp was a little twig with green leaves.

On reaching her room she put the twig in water, and toward evening she drank the water in which the twig had been kept. So agreeable was the taste that she even ate the leaves and the stalks. Every day afterward she had bunches of the tea tree brought to her, which she treated in the same way.

Imitation being the sincerest form of flattery, the ladies of the court tried the experiment, and with such pleasing results that the custom spread throughout the kingdom—and the great Chinese tea industry became one of the greatest businesses in the world.

Imperfect Shooting Laws.

We have federal laws protecting migratory birds during certain periods, and the government has established many reservations for them. But the laws of our various states are conflicting and confusion often results, to the detriment of the birds.

No better illustration of this can be found than with the robin. In the North it is protected all the year around as a songster. It flies to the North early in the spring and is looked after and cared for until late in the fall. It then goes South, where several of the states allow it to be killed, and it is actually sold in the open markets of a number of Southern cities.

But the general attitude of the people toward birds is changing for the better in all the states, South included. We are coming to understand them—North and South—and with better understanding there comes greater encouragement.—Pennsylvania Grit.

Little-Known Chinese Race.

Down in the extreme south of China, in the eastern outposts of the Himalayas, lies the little-known province of Yunan. The natives of Yunan are exceptionally interesting, writes Roy Chapman Andrews in Asia. There are about thirty non-Chinese tribes in the province, some of which, such as the Shans, Mosos and Lolos, represent the aboriginal inhabitants of China.

The Mosos formerly ruled all of northern Yunan. At present they are scattered in remote districts where white men seldom penetrate. They are a simple, honest and delightful people, primitive and pastoral. They are looked down upon by the Chinese as barbarians. The invariable Moso costume is a brown felt cloak and close-fitting cap.

Differences in Coast Line.

The line of the Atlantic coast is largely of mud and sand, and has very little elevation. On the other hand, the Pacific coast line of Washington, Oregon and California is almost entirely rocky and precipitous. While the Atlantic and Gulf coasts are dotted with numerous harbors where ships may seek safety in time of storm, very different conditions exist on the Pacific, where there are few harbors, and these at long intervals.

There's something homey and cheerful about it that you'll like.

Perfection heat is economical heat because kerosene is an economical fuel. But remember this—it makes all the difference in the world what kind of kerosene you use. ON DECREASE IN EASTERN SCHUYLKILL

POTTSVILLE, Oct. 17, 1918.—According to the reports from the State Sanitary Headquarters established in the offices of the P. & R. C. & I. Co., building here the influenza and pneumonia epidemic which has been sweeping the county for the past two weeks is on the decrease in the eastern sections of the county and on the increase in the Mt. Carmel and Shamokin section and also in the Tremont, Tower City district.

The tabulated report showing the number of cases in each town in the county gives the total number of cases between the Tamaqua-Trevorton and Tamaqua-Tower City limits as 21,587 as against 21,851 for the same area yesterday.

A force of 34 more doctors arrived in the county from Camp Crane last evening and are at work to-day assisting and relieving the medical force which as been on the job for the past two days, almost without relief.

Nurses, however, are badly needed and an effort is being made to impost as many as possible from outside points, some of them being expected to be on hand during the day.

General Beury is expected to arrive in the county sometime during the afternoon and a survey of conditions as they exist may bring forth drastic action upon the part of the military authorities who are now in a real command of the situation here.

Quarantine regulations must and should be observed by every one conceived from Harrisburg and New free from the disease and every case adds to the burden already being borne by the medical men and decreases the reserve forces needed in fighting the disease.

Two truckloads of drugs were reseived from Hahhisburg and New York to-day to relieve the shortage of specifics which have been depreciated in the county owing to the unprecendentated demand upon the drug stores.

SISTERS NURSING AT EMERGENCY HOSPITAL

Sisters Sylvia and Bonaventura, of St. Fidelis convent, reported this morning at the Emergency Hospital. They are being assisted by two Hazleton sisters of St. Francis, connected with the Wilkes-Barre convent. St. Fidelis sisters returned last evening from St. Agnes Hospital, Philadelphia. The two Hazleton sisters also arrived last evening. They were the guests of St. Fidelis sisters last evening at the local convent. Two more of St. Fidelis sisters are held in readiness for a call at any time.

SCHUYLKILL SHORT ON LIBERTY LOAN

POTTSVILLE, Oct. 17— With but two days in which to speed up before the close of the Liberty Loan campaign, Schuylkill County is still short nearly 70 per cent. of its quota of $8,607,520, but the official heads of the committees are doing all in their power to finish the campaign strongly, and to send the county over the top at the close of the campaign and this will be the net result, if every one does what is expected of them.

Of course the corporations are not included in the returns which have been made to the Third Federal Reserve Bank and probably $2,000,000 more than is at present reported will be forthcoming, when the returns are made. The P. & R. is not included in this figure so that when the canvass of the miners is completed and all the returns made, even though part of this work has to be done after the three weeks loan period is completed, a grand total will be attained which will send the county over the top.

The ravages of the influenza were more serious than supposed by the committee in charge of the Third Federal Reserve District and fully half of the corps of workers ceased operations after the "flu" started to ravage the county. The loss of many of these workers made a very great impression upon the bank reports and the general feeling toward things other than the immediate battle which meant life or death to many were not very favorable.

Many districts in the state have exceeded their quota, and it was for this reason that no extension of the loan period was considered, but the committee feel that the ends of the canvass can be taken in after the time limit expires, such as was done in other districts under previous loans and similar circumstances and that nothing will be lost in the end.

Every solicitor is urged to do all he can, and every chairman is asked to keep up the work in his district until the campaign ends. What cannot be raised to establish the county's quota will have to be taken up temporarily by the banks, and those who have not participated in the loan will be urged ultimately to do so.

There is no excuse for any one not participating in the Fourth Liberty Loan. The receipts from the sale of bonds on sale in this loan are more urgently needed than those of the former loans, to back up the Schuylkill County and other boys who are making American history in France.

SOLDIER MOONEY, WOUNDED, ARRIVES IN NEW YORK

William Patrick Mooney, son of Mrs. Rose Mooney, of 524 East Railroad street, has arrived in a New York City Hospital. He is still suffering from wounds received in action last July 15th while fighting the Boche with Co. E, 112th United States Infantry.

SOLDIER MOONEY

Mooney upon arriving in New York and with the happy thought of returning home uppermost in his mind was handed a telegram announcing the death of his brother James, in this city. The latter died of influenza last Sunday morning at the local Emergency Hospital.

The soldier from the roaring West Front sent the following reply to his mother:

U. S. A. Debarkation Hospital, No. 1
Ellis Osland, New York.

Dear Mother:

Just a line to let you know that I received the sad news about brother James' death and I am so sorry that I can not come home to attend the funeral. I am still in bed, unable to walk, even by means of crutches. Were I able to move about even by crutches I would most surely be home to have one more glance at my dear brother's form.

Mother, brother and sisters, do the best you can in our sorrow. I know it must be hard for you to bear it. He was such a good son and brother.

Good-bye,

WILLIAM

Another From Mooney

Before receiving information of his brother's death and shortly after his arrival at Ellis Island, he wrote the following to his sister:

Dear Sister:

Well, well. I am back again in the dear old United States but do not think I will be in New York long as I may be sent to an inland hospital for my wounds which I received on the battle field. (A shattered leg). Will notify you when I am permanently located.

My God! How good it is to get back to America and oh, how I long to see dear Old Pennsylvania and get back safe again from that "hell over the sea." I am so thankful. My leg is improving though slowly and some day people of Mahanoy City will see William Patrick Mooney, wounded soldier boy from the West Front, walking through the streets again, although it may be on crutches.

I am,

Your loving brother,
WILLIAM PATRICK MOONEY,
Veteran of West Front.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION TAKES ACTION

The Ministerial Association held a most profitable meting last evening in St. Paul's Reformed parsonage which consisted of prayer and the discussion of such items pertaining to the existing conditions of our town.

It was suggested that the chairman Rev. D. P. Longsdorf, prepare an article for publicity incorporating the views of the assembled clergy.

In response to an appeal which is made in the hour of distress for such who, are capable of offering their services at this time, we therefore appeal to our parishioners to come to the aid in anything that will tend to bring alleviation to the sorely afflicted. There are homes in which the entire family are stricken and to them we would encourage that every possible comfort be shown.

We deeply sympathize with all such who have been bereft of their loved ones, and would commend them to trust in God who will sustain them in these dark days.

The pastors will go to their respective places of worship every evening at 6:30 o'clock, at the ringing of the church bells, and we ask our people ot go with us in prayer in your homes or wherever you may be, praying for all such who are doing the work of sacrifice together with their untiring services they are rendering in this critical moment, so that strength might be given unto them to perform their splendid mission.

We as your servants are ready at all times to offer our services for spiritual comfort and no one needs to hesitate to call where such help may be needed.

We again would commend you all to take every possible physical precaution, to adhere to the requests of the Board of Health and above all trust in God, praying that our town and the entire country may soon be cleansed from this dreadful scourge.

Ho! my comrades, see the signal
Waving in the sky!
Reinforcements now appearing,
Victory is nigh!

Chorus:
Hold the Fort, for I am coming,
Heaven signals still,
Wave the answer back to Heaven,
By Thy grace we will.

See the glorious banner waving,
Hear the bugle blow;
In our Leader's name we'll triumph
Over every foe.

Fierce and long the battle rages,
But our help is near;
Onward comes our Great Commander,
Cheer, my comrades, cheer!

Fifth—The U. S. Shipping Board has added an increased speed in production that it may keep pace with an enlarged War Department of sending U. S. troops "over there."

Oh, to be in Paris when the Drum of victory beats!
To watch the Flag's blue flower make glad gardens of the streets!
To see in tear-soft Woman-eyes the Glory and Pride.
The high, white Flame of Knowledge that the dead are justified!

Oh, to be in Paris when the Troops come Home again!
Out of Storm and Thunder-threat; out of Shrapnel-rain!
To see the gallant Living march, beneath the clean, free sky!
And hail the Ghosts which march with them of the Dead who cannot die!

Oh, to watch the sunlight glint on Maid Jeanne's Holy Lance!
And then, Just God, to kneel and kiss the sacred soil of France.

HAVE PITY ON US

There are ten million or so of Belgians at home or in exile, who are destitute of clothing, if not of food. We know little or nothing of the state of the Belgians of Belgium, but we may take it that their condition must be deplorable. They have not only to provide for themselves as best they can, but they are compelled to share the little they have with their invaders, their military tyrants and their industrial exploiters. Before the war Belgium was the most populous and most prosperous country of its size in the world. Every rod, as the poet says, contains its man.

If Belgium is not a desert today it is because the Germans intended to expropriate it, right and leftt. In Germany industrial workers are said to be paid highly, even if the money which they receive has little purchasing power. But in Belgium for the Belgians there is neither work nor wages. The Germans stripped the manufacturing plants of their machinery and their stocks of raw materials. They looted the Belgian banks, stores and warehouses. They seized Belgium railways and rolling stock. They imposed, when it was possible to exact them, enormous fines from cities which transgressed their impracticable orders or regulations, or what amounted to the same thing, they imposed unconscionable penalties for military transgressions which were neither proven nor demonstrated to have taken place. In a word, the Germans have stripped the Belgians of everything they could carry away with them, their clothing, their food, their goods and their chattels. They have left all their victims almost naked.

The coming winter will be the most harrowing for the Belgians of any which they have endured. As the pressure of the allies on the German occupation of the country becomes more irresistible, the Huns will devour everything in sight. Through various channels this has been revealed to the allies. The Germans will not permit the distribution of clothing, it is believed, without confiscating the greater part of it. If food is sent or can be sent to the country a percentage of it at least will be shared by those for whom it is intended.

Contributions of clothing for Belgian refugees in the allied or neutral countries in which they have taken refuge will be distributed among them with meticulous impartiality. There is scarcely a family in the United States who cannot spare a garment or two for this most deserving of all charities. We realize, of course, that since this country entered the war, castoff clothing has become relatively scarce. But it is not so scarce with us that we cannot afford to be generous to the Belgians, who have been robbed of everything but their souls. This will be, probably, the last winter in which we shall be called upon to assist them. Restored to their own country, to their communal and national freedom and left unhampered in their commercial and industrial enterprises, the Belgians are well able to take care of themselves.

PLAGUE ON PLAGUE

As if the war plague was not a sufficent evil for the day, the influenza epidemic has invaded the United Stated. This news is not so serious as if we woke up one morning and found our beloved country invaded by the Huns with as little expectations as the poor Belgians had of the appearance of the vandals on their frontier a little over four years ago. There is no affliction without its compensation, if only that universal and philosophic balm for all misfortunes — things might be worse. And this is certainly true in this case. No war which as been waged in historical times has been freer from pestilential ravages than the one which we are trying to live through. All things considered, the health of our soldiers in the field has been marvelous. The mortality of the allied troops may be said to be due entirely to accidents or wounds. dysentery and the more virulent forms of epidemic diseases have been entirely absent in the lines and behind the lines.

SHIPMENTS OF COAL FOR SEPTEMBER

The shipments of anthracite for September, as furnished to the Anthracite Bureau of Information, amounted to 6,234,395 tons as compared with 6,372,756 tons for September last year and 7,180,923 tons for the month of August this year, showing a decrease over September of last year of 138,361 tons, and a decrease as compared with August this year of 946,528 tons. The small production in September as compared with August is due principally to the fewer number of working days last month five Sundays and one legal holiday (Labor Day) reducing the number of working days in September to twenty-seven working days in August.

The average daily shipments in September of this year were 259,766 tons against 254,910 tons for the corresponding month of last year, a record which considering labor conditions at the present time, indicates that the Anthracite industry is not laggard in its duty to the Government an the Public.

BOONE CITED FOR EXTRAORDINARY HEROISM

Past assistant surgeon Joseph F. Boone, U. S. M. C.—"For extraordinary heroism in action in the Bois De Belleau, France, June 9, 10, 1918. On two successive days the regimental aid station in which surgeon Boone was working was struck by heavy shells and in each case demolished. Ten men were killed and a number of wounded were badly hurt by falling timbers and stone. Under these harassing conditions, this officer continued without cessation his treatment of the wounded, superintending their evacuation, and setting an inspiring example of heroism to the officers and men serving under him. On June 25, 1918, surgeon Boone followed the attack by one battalion against enemy machine gun positions the Bois De Belleau, establishing advanced dressing stations under continuous shell fire."

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Mahanoy City people.

Mrs. Mary Walters, 1128 East Centre street, Mahanoy City, says: "Kidney trouble came on with a sudden, sharp catch in my back and I had to be carried to the house. DRINK HOT WATER IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washings the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Men and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Good Tobacco Defined by a Union Factory Man

Pipe smokers will be interested in the talk of a man from one of the big tobacco factories. He is traveling on Honeymoon smoking tobacco and is now in town to help make more folks acquainted with it.

"Ever notice how good natured most pipe smokers are? They simply can't get sore about anything when they've got their little old pipe primed with a good brand and drawing good.

"What is a good brand, do you say? Well there's a problem that some fellow wants a lifetime to solve. They don't realize what they want—but I'll tell you the answer. If they're not working outdoors and smoking outdoors all the time, they want a good, mild smoke. They're sure to sour on their pipe sooner or later if they try to smoke an 'outdoor' tobacco inside the house or office.

"Tobacco has to be mellowed by ageing before its right. Down at our plant, Honeymoon is stored away three or four years and all the 'newness' that bites your tongue and sandpapers your throat is cured out.

"It's the strong tobaccos that saturate the furnishings of your home, and your clothes. That's why a good mild tobacco is a favorite with the housewives, as well as the smoker.

"Now, another thing—it adds to the enjoyment of a smoke if you know it's made in a sanitary, up-to-date plant. Cheap labor is all right for some things. But—well, drop into the Honeymoon plant at any time, and see the class of people that fix up Honeymoon tobacco for you. This tobacco is prepared by Union labor. You'll find uniformed employees around the plant, and clean floors and benches, and the best of lavatory equipment.

"It pays to get out a good tobacco. I am greatly pleased with the way people in this town are going after Honey Moon. It deserves their patronage because it's a big value at 10c (larger size 15c)." Go to your tobacco store—get Honey Moon—try it out. Satisfaction or money back.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to section eight, article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:—

Amendment to Article Nine, Section Eight

That section eight of article nine, of the Constitution be amended by striking out the said section and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as provided herein, and in section fifteen of this article, shall never exceed seven (7) per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, but the debt of the city of Philadelphia may be increased in such amount that the total city debt of said city shall not exceed ten per centum (10) upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two (2) per centum upon such assessed valuation of property without consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law. In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of the city of Philadelphia, at any time, there shall be deducted from such debt so much of the debt of said city as shall have been incurred, or is about to be incurred and the proceeds thereof expended, or about to be expended, upon any public improvement, or in the construction, purchase or condemnation of any public utility, or part therefor, if such public improvement or public utility, or part thereof, whether separately or in connection with any other public improvement or public utility, or part thereof, may reasonably be expected to yield revenue in excess of operating expense sufficient to pay the interest and sinking fund charges thereon. The method of determining such amount so to be deducted, may be prescribed by the General Assembly.

In incurring indebtedness for any purpose the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty (50) years from the date thereof, with provision for a sinking fund sufficient to retire said obligations at maturity, the payment to such sinking fund to be in equal or graded annual or other periodical installments. Where any indebtedness shall be or shall have been incurred by said city of Philadelphia for the purpose of the construction or improvements of public works or utilities of any character, from which income or revenue is to be derived by said city, or for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves or docks owned or to be owned by said city, such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for, and may include the amount of, the interest and sinking fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the perod of construction, and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred; and said city shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking-fund charges as required by section ten, article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of said work.

...consent of the electors thereof ... a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law. In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of the said city of Philadelphia, at any time, there shall be excluded from the calculation and deducted from such debt so much of the debt of said city as shall have been incurred, and the proceeds thereof invested in any public movements of any character which shall be yielding to the said city an annual current net revenue. The amount of such deduction shall be ascertained by capitalizing the annual net revenue from such improvement during the year immediately preceding the time of such ascertainment; and such capitalization shall be estimated by ascertaining the principal amount which would yield such annual, current net revenue, at the average rate of interest, and sinking-fund charges payable upon the indebtedness incurred by said city for such purposes, up to the time of such ascertainment. The method of determining such amount, so to be deducted, may be prescribed by the General Assembly. In incurring indebtedness for any purpose the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty (50) years from the date thereof, with provision for a sinking-fund sufficient to retire said obligations at maturity, the payment to such sinking-fund to be in equal or graded annual or other periodical installments. COMMISSIONER OF BANKING MAKES STATEMENT

Honorable Daniel F. Lettean, Commissioner of Banking for the State of Pennsylvania, after a conference with officers of State Banking institutions to-day, authorized the following statement:

State institutions in Pennsylvania, in keeping with Natinal Banks, have been handicapted by various causes in the distribution of Fourth Liberty Loan. In answer to my letter under date of September 11th, 1918, that they urge their directors to borrow and buy, their response has been marked. I wish to say unequivocally that in my opinion, the financial neds of our country at this time emphasize the sound banking principle that each State institution shall place itself permanently on the Roll of Honor by purchasing for its own account such portion to the quota of Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds allotted to it, even if it is necessary for each Institution to borrow money for such purposes. Such loans secured by United States Government Bonds are certainly the safest and soundest in the world.

I venture the prediction that in the years to come institutions which have borowed to buy their quota of United States Government Bonds will stand at the forefront of the institution in their community. I have been proud of the record of the State institutions in the past Liberty Loan Campaigns, and I feel certain their united response at this time will add to their laurels and prestige.

Now—All Together!

NOTHING could stand against the mad dash of the French and American cavalry on the Marne—the German lines gave way, broke, fled; the day was won.

[illegible] American citizens.

Paris, Aug. 5.—The Americans covered themselves with glory in the hand-to-hand fighting in the streets of Fismes yesterday when they captured that German base. The fighting is said to have been the bitterest of the whole war, the Prussian Guards asking no quarter and being bayonetted or clubbed to death as they stood by their machine guns.

[illegible]

That fighting spirit of the men of Foch and Pershing, that united purpose—for Victory—must be the spirit, the purpose, of each of us behind the lines.

We must lend as well as they fight. And we must pull together with all the strength we have—now!

We must so order our lives that we can save—to the limit—and lend—to the limit—for Victory. We must put America's whole strength behind our fighting men.

Let us lend the way they fight Now—All Together! Let us buy bonds to our utmost

COLLAPSE OF GERMAN DEFENCE

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES IN FRANCE, Oct. 17.—Capture of Grand Pre, accomplished by the Americans yesterday, has resulted in collapse of the German defence on a considerable front east of that place.

Additional progress has also been made on both sides of the Meuse. According to prisoners the Germans expected an armistice to go into effect at 3.30 Monday afternoon. They were amazed when our artillery fire increased and the infantry attack. Many who expected to be with the Americans are now prisoners.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Oil

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 25 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

The Enemy Is Watching

By NEWTON D. BAKER, Secretary of War

The supreme moments of our struggle with Germany have now come.

We have carried our first armies across three thousand miles of ocean and joined the issue of battle with the military power of a nation that has been for forty years preparing its plans and its weapons for its present attempt to dominate the world. We have had to put forth an immense effort and spend a fabulous sum in order to make, in so short a time, an adequate beginning for our gigantic task.

But it is only our beginning. We must follow it with greater energy and support it with increasing power. Men, munitions, ships and supplies must go to Europe in a larger and larger stream. We must redouble our blows and add constantly to the strength of those blows, if our initial effort is not to be wasted.

This Means That Our Fourth Liberty Loan Must Be Larger Than Its Predecessors, More Enthusiastically Supported and More Quickly Than Ever Subscribed

The enemy is watching anxiously for the first sign that we are faltering.

Our Government Loans should go "over the top" as eagerly as our soldiers do, in order to carry with them the terror of furious attack. Our dollars must rain upon the enemy as overwhelmingly as our hail of bullets or our storm of shells.

We are fighting for the liberty of the world, for the triumph of our ideals of democracy and self-government over the last great advocate of force upholding injustice. We are buying with our Liberty Loans the security and joy of our people for generations to come. No price could be too high to pay for such a victory—no cost too great for such a purchase.

IN THE EDITOR'S MAIL BAG

(Communicated)

Shenandoah, Pa.,
Oct. 16, 1918.

Dr. C. Gruhler,
President Board of Health, Town.

My Dear Doctor:—

It is pretty generally agreed in the medical profession that alcohol and good whiskey are very essential as medicines in the treatment of the influenza which is now playing such a havocv in our midst. This being true should not our people (and especially the poor) be afforded an opportunity to obtain these medicines readily and at least possible cost? It seems to me that, for these reasons, it is a mistake and an injustice to have our liquor stores closed at this time and I am writing to suggest that you make an appeal to the Governor to lift the ban and that if your appeal is not heeded, you then take the matter up with the proper government authority. Let us not pass this up until too late; let us act now and vigorously.

I congratulate you upon the general health condition in this community; now let us keep it so.

Yours, very truly,
Signed,
M. M. BURKE.

A SUCCESSFUL REMEDY

All things succeed which really deserve to—which fill a real need, which prove their worth. The fact that the famous old root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has for three generations been relieving women of this country from the worst forms of female ills and has won such a strong place in our American homes proves its merit beyond the question of a doubt. It will well pay any woman who is in need of such a medicine to try it. adv

SHELDON HENRY WRITES FROM FRANCE

Medical Detachment,
312 American Train,
A. E. F., France,
Sept. 23, 1918.

My Dear Mrs. Klingeman:

I've promised to drop you a line, also a number of others so I'll put it in the one and you all will be able to get it.

Arrived over here in France safe after a long and tiresome trip up through Canada from Camp Dix and a long fifteen-day trip over Southampton, England. Saw lots of beautiful scenery along the Hudson river and in Canada. For one of sight-seeing the trip couldn't be beaten but for comfort there was a lot lacking.

Coming across the Atlantic Ocean we had bue one exciting adventure when our escort chased a submarine which hit one of the troop ships but did not sink her. Outside of that and a lot of seasickness the ... could have been in peace time. I was lucky in not getting seasick, especially as my duty in the medical corps was taking care of the sick and I'd rather do it when I'm well and not sick.

We were less than a day in Southampton; in fact, we just slept there better yet, tried to sleep there and and immediately left England the next afternoon. Came across the English channel to LeHavre, France, in an American boat. Our trip across the ocean was in an English boat and believe me, I'd rather not try it again in one of theirs. Give me U. S. every time. We came across the channel in a U. S. boat called the "Yale" which used to travel between Boston and New York and it felt great to talk to real American fellows. I could tell you lots here but it will be kept until I get back to Mahanoy City and besides it might not be believed.

We rest overnight in LeHavre and taking our Pullman (freight cars) we traveled south for two days and nights until we reached Bordeaux where we were placed in this camp. From here, when we are needed, we shall be sent to the front probably within five or six weeks.

The weather here is very nice; in fact, if you do even the least work it is very warm. We are out in the country quite away from the city and only within walking distance of a few small villages. If you were over here and were soaked as we are for grapes and other fruits and eatables you would thank the Lord when you got home in U. S. that you had enough left to cover you. They think we are all attached to a mint and it is a case of paying or go without. One of your meals now would put most of us in paradise and that's a matter of fact.

Well, I'm not trying to make this a funeral letter as we do have it very easy at present and the scenery and interesting people with their little homes are worth a lot to see. The place is far from the front so we wouldn't think there was war here unless we saw so many wearing black and even they take it very cheerful.

Have not seen any of the Mahanoy City boys but as this country is small and the American sector smaller, everything is possible.

Give my best regards to all my friends there and ask Miss McDermott if that picture of the family group taken when I was there, turned out good and if so, could I get one.

Wouldn't mind being there with you all but expect I'll have to wait for another few months anyway.

Sincerely yours,
One of the bunch.

WAS ELEGANT SCHEME, BUT—

Great Detective Had Overlooked One Possible Happening, and the Witness Had Not.

There were just 13 guests at Mrs. Hyphen Ramrod's party. She thought it would prove unlucky and when she missed her $8,000 tungsten ring she knew it was. She telephoned Sheerluck Bones, the great detective, immediately after the discovery and a few minutes later he arrived.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he announced in his cold, clear tones, "a tungsten ring worth $8,000 has been stolen and one of you is the thief, not to use a harsher word. Mrs. Hyphen Ramrod wishes me to spare the culprit's feelings, inasmuch as he is her guest. Very well. If you will kindly assemble about the dining table I will cause the lights to be extinguished and slowly count fifty. That will give the guilty party ample time to lay the ring on the table, under cover of the darkness. Otherwise I shall be obliged to search you all. But I should like a witness to be present. Mrs. Ramrod, kindly procure a witness."

Mrs. Ramrod left and returned with a passer-by, a tall man with side whiskers and a vacant stare. The great detective waved his hand, the room was plunged in darkness, and slowly he counted fifty. At "forty-eight" the unmistakable tinkle of tungsten against wood was heard as the stolen ring was tossed on the table. Immediately afterward there was a violent crash, as of breaking glass. The great detective turned on the lights.

The ring was not there. Neither was the witness.—Detroit Free Press.

DO SOMETHING WORTH WHILE

Much Benefit Will Come From Determination to Make Each Day Record of Accomplishment.

The one who starts out in the morning with a determination to do something during the day that will amount to something, that will be distinctive, that will have individuality, that will give him satisfaction at night, is a great deal more likely not to waste his day in frivolous, unproductive work than the one who starts out with no plan.

Begin every day, therefore, with a program and determine that, let what will come, you will carry it out as closely as possible. Follow it up persistently, day after day, and you will be surprised at the result.

Make up your mind at the very outset of the day that you will accomplish something that will amount to something; that you will not allow callers to fritter away your time, and that you will not permit the little annoyances of your business to spoil your day's work. Make up your mind that you will be larger than the trifles which cripple and cramp mediocre lives, and that you will rise above petty annoyances and interruptions and carry out your plans in a large and commanding way.

Make every day of your life count for something; make it tell in the grand results, not merely as an added day, but as an added day with something worthy achieved.

Much Property Reverts to Crown.

Few people realize the large amount of property which passes every year to the crown of England owing to the owners dying without heirs or next-of-kin, and without having made a will. In most of these cases the deceased is an illegitimate person with no children.

As a rule the crown does not appropriate the whole of the property, but makes what is called a compassionate allowance to the relatives of the deceased, although they may not be his relatives according to law, and in some cases to friends and servants who have performed services for him which entitle them to consideration.

The amount of the allowance is determined by the treasury, or, in the case of the estates of persons dying within the duchy of Lancaster, by the chancellor of the duchy.

The money does not pass to the king himself, but to the nation, and thus goes to relieve taxation.

Why Twelve Is Standard Unit.

The numeral 12 was chosen as a standard unit because it contains so many smaller factors; this is the reason why it is still retained as a base in spite of the efforts to replace it by the metric system. All primitive nations found fractions very difficult, and even the Egyptians, who were most proficient in fractions, used methods that were very long and cumbersome. It was a great advantage, therefore, to have a standard unit which could be divided into parts without giving common fractions, and 12 was such a number, as 1-2, 1-3, 1-4 and 1-6 of 12 were all whole numbers.—Science Monthly.

Test of Honesty.

Money never made a man honest. Higher salary rarely secures the services of better men for the public. That has been shown, time and again, when the salary of a position was raised for the purpose of attracting business talent to it. The result usually has been that some hack politician has accepted the higher pay with thanks or else that the sort of business man who was attracted to place-holding by the money offered soon developed into an inferior grade of politician. Honesty and dishonesty have no necessary relation to a man's financial or social condition.—Buffalo Express.

PARIS, Oct. 17.—Lille, Pourcing and Roubais are in precisely the same fix as Leonne was a week ago—on the verge of falling.

Record, Mahanoy City, Pa.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 — Subscriptions reported and estimated up to noon Thursday amount to four billion dollars, leaving at least two billion dollars to complete the Fourth Liberty Loan. Only two days are left within which to raise this vast sum. No country on earth but America could raise so vast a sum in so short a time. America can do it and must do it. The destinies of the world and the hopes of civilization are centered upon America. We shall fail in everything we have fought for and hope to gain in this war if the Fourth Liberty Loan is defeated. Let every true American citizen to-day examine himself under the white light of patriotism and say whether or not he had done his utmost in this emergency. The highest obligations of duty and patriotism command every true American to go immediately to his bank or to his Liberty Loan Committee and subscribe to the limit of his ability to the Fourth Liberty Bonds. Don't delay. Don't wait to be urged. Be as quick to do your part in this Fourth Liberty Loan battle as our soldiers in France are quick to bey the orders to charge the enemy. Buy Liberty Bonds on the installment plan if you cannot buy them for cash. Every patriotic bank will help you. If every patriotic citizen will do his duty to-day victory for the Fourth Liberty Loan is certain, the continued victories of our armies in Europe, the certain defeat of our enemies and the glorious triumph of the cause of Liberty depend upon what the American people do in the remaining two days of the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign.

POLITICAL CALDRON IN CENTRAL EMPIRES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. — Both Germany and Austria are now going through a process of meetings on President Wilson's peace terms, some of which "knuckling down" may be only outward signs and some of it just enough to mark the political caldron of the Central Empires from boiling over. That was the view here to-day regarding reported German and Austria-Hungarian political reform regarding persistence though unofficial reports that Germany was applying nothing to her path of retreat and was calling home her U-boats.

BORROW FROM YOUR BANKS AND LEND TO THE UNITED STATES

The Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company to-day came across with a handsome purchase of Fourth Liberty Bonds at the local banks. This to boost Zone 8.

Inasmuch as this company, which is always forefront in any cause looking to the weal of the municipality, county, State or Nation, has not seen fit at this time to assist its employees in the purchase of these bonds (and this for a very good reason), isn't it up to those employees to visit the local banks Saturday to purchase all the bonds which they possibly can. If you haven't the money, the banks will help you out. Banks will loan you money at the legal rate of interest. If your loan is $1,000 or more, only a 4½ per cent. rate of interest will be charged.

The Liberty Loan throughout the nation, state, county a town has been lagging somewhat. The people, through t banks, can help some by going to any one of the three local bank and arranging to buy and even beyond—until it hurts. Go Saturday, the closing day of the drive.

The three Mahanoy City banks have arranged to be open Saturday, Oct. 19, from 2.00 P. M. to 6.00 P. M., to accommodate the people. You employees of the P. & R. C & I Co are expected to do the elegant as you always have in the past. The sunshine of general good health is breaking and the Fourth Liberty Loan mus "go over the top."

ANTITOXIN FOR INFLUENZA

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Members of the Chicago Medical Society were today discussing claims advanced by Louis J. Pint that diphtheria antitoxin is an absolute specific for so called influenza.

Dr. Pint, formerly Illinois State Bacterioligist and now connected with the University of Illinois, declared before the society that he had treated 75 influenza cases with diphtheria antitoxin without the loss of a case. He stated further that he had isolated germs causing the disease and that they are staphylococcus, the germ that causes carbuncles and strettococcus, the germ which causes sores in throat and mouth.

HEALTH HINTS

October 18th, 191

EDITOR RECORD :

Good health consists in mastion, digestion, assimilation and elimination. The outcome should equ the income. We should get rid of much as we eat.

Most persons eat for two reason first, to satisfy their hunger; secon to gratify their appetite.

If we ate only enough to satisf our hunger, no harm would be don but appetite is an artificial requirment and its gratification has brou untold suffering to the human r Even perfectly good and wholeso food becomes injurious when eaten quantities greater than can be dige ed or in excess of that which the bo really needs. It undergoes a proce of fermentation or putrefaction whi is the beginning of all stomach and testinal diseases.

Dr. Abernethy, a famous Engli physician, once remarked that third of what we eat sustain the other two-thirds endangers

A glutton may be defined as a who digs his grave with his teet

If you wish to use a perfectly s and reliable preventive, take calci sulphide tablets in one-grain dos after meals. It should be continu until the body becomes saturated until the breath acquires the odor of sulphuretted hydrogen, or, to use a less elegant expression, until it smells like rotten eggs.

Onions and garlic are also usef internal antiseptics. The old ada "An apple a day keeps the do away," may be strengthened by nig; "An onion a day keeps every away."

Our aim should be to make health contagious instead of ease.

That appalling damnation—intelligence without humanity—converting a whole people into a predatory monster has descended on the world.

No human institution, fine or noble, is any longer safe. Invasions from a malignant star or fabled beasts breaking up through the crust of the earth could not more awfully threaten us. Every energy of every civilized nation must be assembled for resistance.

An idle dollar is an idle weapon!

How shall we face enslaved men, mutilated children and forlorn women if in this hour of supreme peril we hold back idle in our house a weapon that would have helped to save the world?

"THE RECORD'S" job work — including letter heads, note heads, envelopes, political and personal cards, advertising sheets, invitations, etc.—speaks for itself. Try it.

WHEN THE DEVIL WAS SICK

German soldiers and submarine sailors are still committing atrocities (such as pouring paraffine over living victims and applying the torch), but German writers now have less to say about the conquering German sword and industriously seeks to show how good and peace-loving Germans have ever been. The Kaiser himself is described as a very monument of good morals and benevolence, could beat even President Wilson in handing out lofty sentiment and prove himself to be the most advanced statesman of his time. One prominent German writer, for example, is quoted as saying that, while it would not befit imperial dignity to "enter into controversy with hair splitting of ill educated enemy statesmen," it might be of "immense advantage" if the Kaiser would "consent to deliver his political confession of faith." It is quietly ignored that the Kaiser has done this repeatedly in recent years and months and that his confession of political faith has included the following sentiments:

"As I look upon myself as an instrument of the Lord I am indifferent to the point of view of the present day. The King holds his power by the grace of God, to Whom alone he is responsible. There is only one master in this country ; I am he and I will not tolerate another. There is only one law—my law—the law which I myself lay down. A ruler may be very disagreeable, and I will be disagreeable if I think necessary. The soldier must not have a will of his own—they must all have only one will and that will mine. The best word is a blow—the army and the navy are the state. The army and the Emperor at its head can alone secure the safety of the empire and the peace of the world. The foreigner has learned the consequence of offending the German Emperor. It is the soldier and the army, not parliamentary votes, that have welded the German empire together. My confidence rests upon the army."

Wilson, Lloyd George and Clemenceau are not so "ill educated" that they do not understand what the Kaiser has stood for and will stand for as long as he is allowed to stand for anything. They not only know what the German government stands for but that it is faithless and can not be trusted. No longer ago than September 27 President Wilson declared that the Central Powers are "without honor," that they "observe no covenants" and have made it "impossible" for us to come to terms with them. It is too late now to pretend that the Kaiser is a lamb when we know that he is a tiger whose claws must be cut. Even after Germany has surrendered unconditionally the heads of the Allied governments—if true to the announced view—will consent to treat only with especially elected representatives of the German masses. The present rulers of disgraced Germany are outlaws and must be treated as such.

REGARD COLD AS SERIOUS

Medical Authority Warns Against Contemptuous Attitude Too Often Taken by Those Afflicted.

The ultrawise citizen of male persuasion devotes part of the sweltry summer days to the unsympathetic task of selecting his winter overcoat—a wise and sometimes money-saving piece of foresight. Other perspiring ones are buying coal. In summer prepare for winter. It is probably in this spirit that the very midsummer number of Boston Medical and Surgical Journal touches upon the December subject of colds, and it is precisely in this spirit that we translate a few injunctions from the medical writing of Dr. D. C. Dennett in the Journal.

Treat colds early and carefully. Colds are simply the first stages of pneumonia, tuberculosis and many other ailments. When you have a cold you are in the beginning of a serious disease, which may develop if you neglect it. In military camps the order is that colds be reported upon the appearance of first symptoms.

Do not poke a cold with medicated cotton on a stick. Do not take aspirin except for pain. Do not spray a cold. Do not take quinine and whisky, but treat a cold seriously because it is a serious disease. Consult a doctor.

MEANT FREEDOM FOR FRANCE

Allegorical Representation of Young Girl's Impressions of First Soldiers From America.

Kathleen Norris gives an imaginary conversation with a young French girl describing the coming of the American soldiers to France as she is supposed to remember it:

"'And men—to stand beside our men—from America! I remember standing in the chateau gateway on a bright November afternoon and seeing them come up the road. Soldiers! We were used to soldiers! But these were different. Grandmere was with me, we had been here all the time.

"'They came along, in the streaming afternoon sunlight, and they smiled and waved at me.

"'"They are the Americans!" Grandmere said, and she began to cry softly. "God bless them—God bless them!" she whispered, over and over.

"And that night, as you know, we had their officers at the chateau and one of them told me he, also, had a daughter, not much younger than I, and that her name was Virginia—

"'I don't know why—for, God knows, there were hard times, and dark times ahead—but from that moment I felt hope. Child that I was, I seemed to see behind those marching men the big and generous nation that was dedicating itself to their service, the women everywhere, with their sewing and cooking, saving and planning, their letters and their prayers—all one in their work for an ideal beside which the comfort and the ease of this generation was as nothing!'"—Woman's Home Companion.

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't Stay Gray! Here's an Old-time Recipe that Anybody can Apply.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

URIC ACID IN MEAT CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you—Drink more water.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three time during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then — a bad breath — a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

FIRE-PROOF EMERGENCY HOSPITAL

W. J. Richards, President of the P. & R. C. & I. Company, with residence at Pottsville, accompanied by Col. Lawrence who has charge of Health Affairs in Schuylkill County during the presnt serious influenza epidemic, called in this city yesterday relative to establishing a fire proof Emergency Hospital. Both gentlemen were escorted about the city by Prof. H. A. O'Day and Acting Health Board Secretary John Goyne.

They visited the High School and recommended that it be put to hospital purposes. To transform the school into a hospital would require considerable outlay of money. There's the rub—money—where is the money to be gotten?

Mr. Goyne in querying the State Board of Health at Harrisburg this afternoon was informed that each borough and city will have to bear its own expense.

The High School has not been commandeered by the Board of Health as a hospital although Col. Lawrence has recommended it.

The Borough Council is burdened with debt, has a deleted treasury and is unable to borow money. This information was presented by City Solicitor M. J. Ryan who fears that if the State does not come to the rescue of Mahanoy City the epidemic will have to run its course and that means a big loss of life.

By the way the rich state of Pennsylvania has never failed to be on the job when there was and handout in tax on bonds or any other pecuniary "nap." It does not seem preposterous, in fact it seems criminal that the State can not afford to deal out a few thousand dollars in waging a campaign against an epidemic which is outstretching its menacing tentacles over this city.

Help has to come from somewhere and if the borough can not look to the State for succor, whither shall we fly?

It's a serious time here and the sooner the State Board of Health appreviates this fact and comes across financially the better for all concerned. If not, the epidemic will have to sweep on in unmitigated fury.

WILL PENNSYLVANIA HEAR THE CRY OF MAHANOY CITY?

BUYERS AND FIGHTERS

Americans in general must sooner or later come to a complete realization of this war with Germany. For despite the fact that the country is facing in the fact that we have perhaps a million and a quarter men in France today, the casualty lists are constantly growing heavier, we haven't yet fully reached that point.

Americans are the slowest folks in all the world to take things seriously.

Even our soldiers went across the ocean in a sort of holiday spirit. They "ran to it like they were going to a feast," was the way General Mangin described their dash against the German lines in the last offensive.

And in the purchase of Liberty Bonds there are thousands and thousands of otherwise very estimable citizens who are content to let the other fellow do it.

Unless these tardy ones come loyally to the front in the next loan there will be a striking disproportion between the number of fighters and bond buyers.

For Uncle Sam is now planning an army of 5,000,000 to put the finishing touches upon Prussianism and Kaiserdom. Even this is not an excessive drain upon our man power. Lloyd George, in his latest speech, declared that if America put into the field as many men proportionate to her population as England had done it would mean an army of 15,000,000. And in the last loan there were less than 17,000,000 bond buyers.

The mark set for individual subscriptions in the next loan is 25,000,000. This will be only five bond buyers for every fighter. And most of these will be repeaters.

The stay-at-homes must be awakened. They must be brought to a sense of their duty. They must be brought to the bond counters to do their part.

The next bond campaign should see nearer fifty million buyers than twenty-five million. There has been altogether too much shirking of responsibility.

And it is up to you, Mr. Bond Buyer, to help round up the hesitant ones.

Mighty few of them cannot afford to buy at least one bond.

Make it your business to see that they do.

COUNTY QUOTA WILL BE MADE UP

POTTSVILLE, Oct. 18— Although the county has not yet attained its quota of the Fourth Liberty Loan, the canvas will be resumed as soon as the influenza epidemic subsides and the amount asked will be forthcoming. There is no doubt in the minds of the committee that the county quota will be made up and exceeded, but at present the disease has precluded a complete canvass of the industrial centers, especially the mines of several of the large corporations, and the result has been that when return sheets are closed on aSturday evening at the end of the campaign, only about 50 per cent. of the quota will have filtered into the United States Treasury through the banks.

Bank returns to-day showed about $3,000,000 which amount contains none of the "coal money" subscribed by the coal companies and their employees. A large amount has been subscribed by the miners of the companies other than the Reading and a large number of the industrial plants have scored 100 per cent. Conferences held on Thursday afternoon between the companies and the medical men who have at present full control of the district, and it was advisable to discourage any canvass of the mining operations at present owing to the inability to make a complete canvass. This work will therefore be postponed until the epidemic subsides which may be in two or three weeks from the present date. All subscriptions taken at that time will be accredited to the county total.

Before the corporation cuts and subscriptions can be tallied at the close of the campaign it will require considerable apportionment and the solicitors who have worked so hard to obtain results need not, for a minute, fear that their efforts have been for naught, as many prospects who have not been approached because of the epidemic will be solicited through the banks and the amounts accredited to the local committees so that everyone will receive due credit although some of the subscriptions which rightfully belong in his district have not passed through his hands.

It is expected that the total amount subscribed when the Reading and other delayed canvasses are completed will run to $10,000,000 for the county but the exact figures owing to the immense amount of clerical labor involved will not be known for a week or so after the close of the campaign period.

WAR HAS TAUGHT VALUE OF THRIFT

People Have Learned How Senseless and Unnecessary Common Practices Are.

RETURN TO SIMPLE LIFE

Those Not Willing to Deprive Themselves of Some Comforts Ungrateful For What Boys "Over There" Are Doing For Us.

By JAMES W. GERARD, Former Ambassador to Germany.

In the days before the war it often seemed to me that the immigrant who came here with practically nothing and who left an education and often a competence to his children lived as all men should live. He worked hard and well and saved his money. Then as his circumstances permitted he placed his family in comfortable surroundings. Often he got hold of a little piece of ground and raised a part of his food supply. Such men as these told me often that American life presented very few difficulties to a man who wanted to become wealthy through his own efforts.

Of course, these people did not have the things that many of their neighbors thought vitally necessary. There was no show, no ostentation, nothing merely to impress their associates and neighbors. And after all man is a simple being. His wants are few, once he gets out of an artificial point of view.

Return to Simple Living.

Since the war has come with its necessity of curtailed expenditure many persons and families are approaching the state of simple living. They are being vastly benefited. A mental and spiritual betterment comes with simple living and thinking. There is also a great gain in resource. No man need ever fear that he will become miserly through the practice of thrift. Thrift simply means using the right things for the right purpose and putting aside the surplus.

If the war has done nothing else it has at least taught to many persons the value of thrift. The human mind is prone to attach labels to things. Because a thing is done it is done more and more. Once the individual gives thought to life and living he sees how senseless and unnecessary are some of the practices to which he thought he was committed for the rest of his life. Too many people in America are living beyond their means in order to vie with some richer neighbor. Why risk your children's future and education through a silly imitation induced by false pride?

To do anything well is a fine training for any man or woman. The practice of thrift is only the utilizing in the most scientific and exact ways of an individual's resources. It is character building and makes of man almost the master of his destiny.

Prove Superiority to Hun.

The situation of the world at the present time says to civilized man: Prove that you are fitted to survive the Hun; prove that you are superior to the Hun; prove that you are worthy of being preserved. For a wasteful use of materials at the present time is a crime against civilization. The war cannot be won unless the nation and the individual practice the most exact thrift. If we as a race cannot do this we are not fit to be the dominant factors in the world. We can and we will. The Hun and the state of affairs brought about by him are a challenge to our civilization. We accept the challenge and we will win the victory.

We could not do less. Our own countrymen and our brothers in arms are living in the midst of the greatest danger abroad. They are subsisting only on the vitally necessary foods and their general situation is lacking in comforts. We will deprive ourselves of some of our own abundant comfort that they may have the necessities of life. We must not prove ungrateful for what they are doing for us. We do not wish to live in an enervating comfort while they are suffering and giving their lives that we may survive.

There is for those who are rich or semirich or who merely have money and extravagant tastes another and a practical side.

Money Must Be Had.

We must have the money to carry on the war. If money does not come to the government from the country's present stock of money, then it must be created, for the war cannot stop.

Additional money means inflation and that means a fall in the worth, in the purchasing power of the dollar.

So that every one who has an income, a salary or invested capital of any kind, bonds, mortgages or other obligations of state or city or railway, should be vitally interested in practicing thrift, and thereby maintaining the value of the purchasing power of his own property.

But greatest argument of all—the spending of money now unnecessarily is shameless, even criminal.

Are we to feast while our sons and brothers die over there and by our very feasting put their success in jeopardy?

No ruler ever led people as efficiently to war as does our great president. Back him up.

Milk Toast Diet Too Much for Her

"I doctored for years with only temporary relief. My liver was very bad, after eating I would always have such a fullness in my stomach and my heart would palpitate. I could not eat milk toast without distressing me. Since taking a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, more than a year ago, I can eat anything my appetite desires." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

Italians All in It.

"Practically every woman in Italy from sixteen to sixty is a war nurse or a volunteer war worker, and the whole nation is feeling the beneficent throb of their activity," Count V. Machhi De Cellere said in an address before the Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Our women in Italy, though not politically organized or prepared for service, had within their hearts and minds the hereditary tradition of the struggle for liberty and nationality and have stepped forward, falling into line with marvelous efficiency and unanimity, backing the men in the army from royal palace to munition plant.

"They have undertaken the task of looking after the soldiers' families, as well as reconstructing and refitting for useful lives the disabled men, of giving hands to the fields as well as to the factory."

What He Wanted.

General Biddle said at a London garden party:

"The doughboy in France has a lot of trouble with the French language. A doughboy sat on a bench in the Tuileries gardens one day and thumbed a French phrase book discontentedly.

"'This here book,' he growled, 'don't tell you what you want to say at all. It tells you how to say the uncle of your mother is sixty-five years old, or the sister of your wife has bought a cow, or the umbrella of your neighbor is in the attic, but I don't want to say nothing of that kind.'

"'What do you want to say?' another doughboy asked.

"'What I'm after,' said the first doughboy, 'is a book that tells you how to say, 'Your face is familiar; ain't we met before?' or 'Gee, them eyes!' or 'Little girl, you sure do look out o' sight in that swimmin' suit.'"

Proof that Some Women do Avoid Operations

Mrs. Etta Dorion, of Ogdensburg, Wis., says:

"I suffered from female troubles which caused piercing pains like a knife through my back and side. I finally lost all my strength so I had to go to bed. The doctor advised an operation but I would not listen to it. I thought of what I had read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and tried it. The first bottle brought great relief and six bottles have entirely cured me. All women who have female trouble of any kind should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

How Mrs. Boyd Avoided an Operation.

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well.

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Germany's Terms

By Count Roon

Germany is entitled to the following terms because of its strength, and until they are realized there should be no armistice:

Annexation of Belgium. Annexation of the entire Flanders coast, including Calais. Annexation of the Briey and Longwy basins and the Toul, Belfort and Verdun regions eastward.

Restitution to Germany of all her Colonies, including Kiaochow.

Great Britain must cede to Germany such naval bases and coaling stations as Germany designates.

Great Britain must give Gibraltar to Spain, cede its war fleet to Germany, give Egypt and the Suez Canal to Turkey.

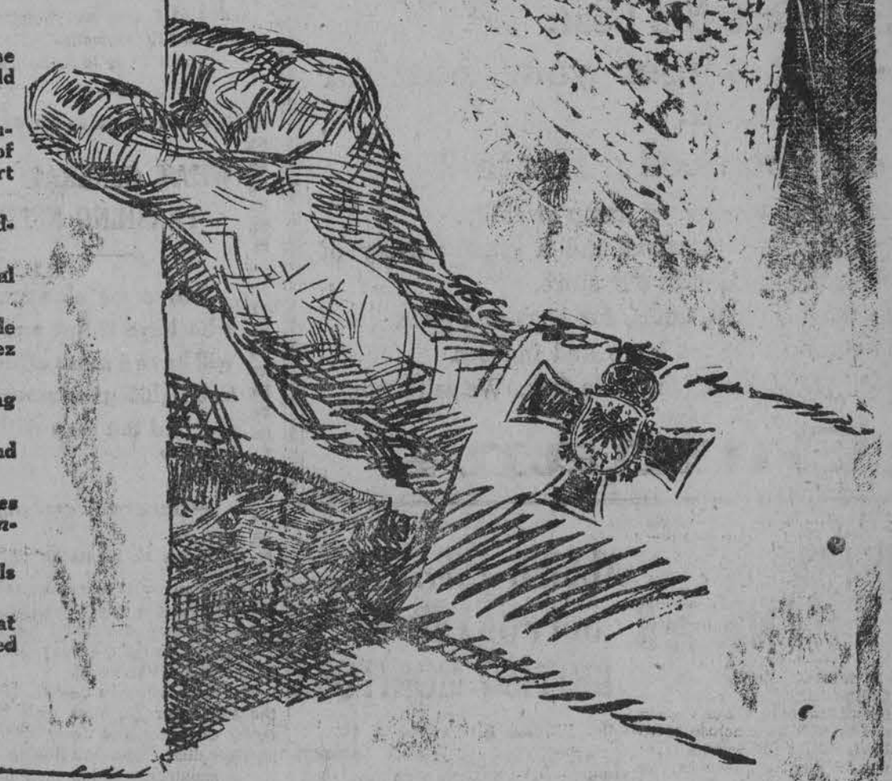

Greece must be re-established under former King Constantine, with frontiers as before the war.

Austria and Bulgaria will divide Serbia and Montenegro.

Great Britain, France, and the United States must pay all of Germany's war costs, the indemnity being a minimum of $45,000,000,000.

They must also agree to deliver raw materials immediately.

France and Belgium must remain occupied at their expense until these conditions are carried out.

How Are You Going To Answer Germany's Peace Terms?

THE greatest advertisement for the Fourth Liberty Loan of the United States of America has been written by a Prussian.

His name is Count Roon and he wrote it as a member of the Prussian House of Lords. It is printed above. Read it carefully.

Forty-five billion dollars or more indemnity!

This, then, is the price the world must pay for a victorious German peace. This, then, is the footnote to the Kaiser's prayer, expressed in the coldest terms of plainest business.

This is the meaning of war to the Prussian, as he proclaims his battles righteous, prosecuted in self-defense.

Oh, you men and women of America, is there a dollar in all this land to-day so tightly held that it will not now come forth to answer the swaggering arrogance of the Hun?

These days will tell, for as you place your name upon that subscription blank for Liberty Bonds you state the price your land, your liberty and democracy are worth to you today.

Now how are you going to answer the "peace terms" of the kaiser and his band of murdering buccaneers?

SEVEN WAR WORK RELIEF AGENCIES JOIN IN DRIVE

Recognized Great Organizations Representing All Creeds and Elements Welded Into One.

$170,500,000 IS THE GOAL.

Plan of War Department to Avoid Waste of Energy and Duplication of Effort Enthusiastically Adopted and Unity Is Achieved.

WHAT GENERAL PERSHING NEEDS

"Give me nine men who have a hut and I will have a more effective fighting force than if I had ten men without it."

—General Pershing.

On November 11 the American people will start a one week's drive to raise the largest amount of money ever given outright by any people in the history of the world.

The drive will be a new thing under the sun. For the first time Protestants, Catholics and Jews, forgetting all their differences, will line up shoulder to shoulder, welding their individual organizations together in their common devotion to the boys in the cantonments and over there. This amalgamation of the seven great agencies engaged in war work is one of the fine developments which have been brought about by the war and under the wise guidance of President Wilson.

The seven organizations which together will make this united appeal are the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., National Catholic War Council and K. of C., the Jewish Welfare Board, the War Camp Community Service, the American Library Association and the Salvation Army. Each of them will need funds this Fall; each had planned a separate campaign for support. Now, acting on the suggestion of the President's letter of September 5, the seven campaigns will be rolled into one. The American people will be spared the burden of seven separate appeals, and the nation will have an opportunity to demonstrate splendidly that men and women of all creeds at home can work together, as men of all creeds over there are fighting and dying together.

Dr. John R. Mott, whom President Wilson has spoken of as one of the ablest and most useful men of his generation, has been selected Director General of the drive. It is interesting to note that Dr. Mott's name was placed in nomination by John G. Agar of the National Catholic War Council and seconded by Mortimer L. Schiff of the Jewish Welfare Board. The general committee having the campaign in charge contains such well known names as Raymond B. Fosdick, Chairman of the Commission on Training Camp Activities; George W. Perkins, Chairman of the Finance Committee of the U. S. Steel Corporation; James F. Phelan of Hornblower and Weeks; Honorable Myron T. Herrick, former ambassador to France; Cleveland H. Dodge, George Gordon Battle, Mrs. Henry P. Davison and Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank.

In every city, county and town the campaign will be in charge of the biggest men of the community.

Together these seven organizations represent a work that is staggering in its proportions. They have more than 15,000 uniformed workers, standing shoulder to shoulder with the boys every step of the way from home to the front line trenches. They operate more than 3,600 buildings and ship 500 tons of supplies to the boys in France every week. Fifteen miles of film set sail for the other side each week under their direction, and the regular weekly attendance of soldiers and sailors at their motion picture shows is more than 2,500,000. The Bibles furnished to the boys since the war broke out would, if piled one on another, make a pile more than twenty miles high.

"Morale," said Napoleon, "is as other factors in war as three to one." By which he meant that one man who is kept contented and happy is better than three men who are discouraged and homesick. It is the business of these seven great agencies to help maintain morale. They are keeping up the fine fighting edge of our boys, and by their ministrations, helping to put added power into our army and navy and so hasten the hour of victory when they will bring our boys home again.

It is predicted by national leaders that this great victory drive will "go over the top" in a larger way than any campaign that has preceded it.

MAYAS INDIANS BEFORE INCAS

Race That Has Long Since Disappeared Ranked With the Aztecs in Scale of Civilization.

Prescott's Conquest of Peru accounts for the popular belief that all the people of this country were Incas. The truth is that the greatest part of the textiles of ancient Peru belongs to a people that had passed away before the Incas tribes reached the coast.

The Mayas were the ancient race of Indians which settled in the lowlands of Guatemala in Central America. They ranked with the Aztecs in civilization. They excelled in sculpture, cotton weaving and feather work. About the sixth century they are supposed to have disappeared. They left behind them cities like ancient Quirigua, now a mass of ruins overgrown by the jungle. Half buried by tropical growth today the archeologists are uncovering huge monoliths sculptured with strange designs and each bearing a giant face.

The Mayas have disappeared, but the Indians, forming more than half the population of Guatemala, are their direct heirs.

Their bright-colored blankets and scarfs, their primitive methods of barter, their open-air markets filled with great heaps of strange stuffs and articles, should capture the imagination of any modern textile designer with ideas.

CARE FOR ALL STRAY CATS

Every Day Homeless Grimalkins Are Fed at Cloister of San Lorenzo In Florence, Italy.

From time immemorial the stray cats of Florence, Italy, have been cared for. The cloister of San Lorenzo is sacred to poor puss. It is overlooked by the windows of the famous Laurentian library, built by Michelangelo for Pope Clement VII to house the Medicean collection.

All stray cats are taken thither, and at noon every day scraps of meat, etc., collected from house after house, are emptied into the dry moat round the grass. Toward feeding-time one may see cats of all kinds and degrees—black, tortoise-shell, tawny, and white, male and female, young and old—basking in the sun and licking their chops.

Finally, when the food is brought, from every direction cats crowd in, hissing at one another, mewing and making much noise. Then, when they have fed, human snappers-up of unconsidered trifles come round to secure the pieces of paper, etc., for rags.

When a lost cat is found in the city it is taken to San Lorenzo as naturally as every Florence baby is taken to the Baptistry of St. John's to be christened. Moreover, when people wish to get rid of their cats, they do not poison them or leave them to be starved in empty houses, but send them to the hospital cloister.

Best Conditions for Sleep.

The best time for sleeping is that time that will favor the greatest degree of relaxation. With most people this is some time during the hours of darkness, when there isn't so much going on to distract the senses of sight and hearing. Just what hours should be devoted to sleep is not as important as that there should be enough of them. The so-called beauty sleep, achieved during the hours preceding midnight, is a fact only because it adds to the number of hours which, under ordinary conditions, we might be supposed to spend in bed. Most of us get up at about the same time every morning—no matter how early or how late we've gone to bed the night before. So there isn't a word of truth in the old fable that one hour of sleep before midnight is worth any two hours later. Sleep is sleep, provided only that it is sound, restful sleep—whether we get it at eight o'clock in the evening, two o'clock in the morning, or one o'clock the next afternoon. If we can get our sleep undiluted by disturbance so much the better.

Friendly Boy, Timid Cat.

Standing on the sidewalk in front of a dwelling house in a midtown street, a garbage can with a cover on it and with some shreds of stuff sticking out from under the cover. A big cat standing on its hind legs at the can, pulling off this stuff and trying to get the cover off.

A little down the street was a small boy, a bright small boy of about seven years, and when he saw the hungry cat at the can he resolved to help. So he walked up quietly and removed the cover and then stood back a few paces with it, holding the cover in front of him as a warrior holds his shield.

But the cat had never met a boy like that, and instead of staying to supply itself at the bounteous store thus made so easily accessible, it wheeled and fled.—New York Times.

Passing of the Tall Hat.

The quaint tall hat which is now only seen in Wales, or on the heads of stage witches in pantomimes, was originally the fashionable head-dress for ladies during the reign of Queen Anne. A curious result of that fashion can, or could lately, be found at the West-Country vicarage once held by Lancelot Blackburne, the retired buccaneer who became archbishop of York. There the lintels of the doorways are, or were, abnormally high, to enable Mrs. Blackburne to go from room to room without fear of damage to her hat.

TOURTOING HAS BEEN EVACUATED

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Tourtoing has been evacuated, it was reported from the British front to-day.

TO-DAY

Sure this world is full of trouble,
I ain't said it ain't,
Lord, I've had enough and double
Reason for complaint.
Rain and storm have come to fret me—
Skies were often grey;
Thorns and brambles have beset me
On the road but say—
Ain't it fine to-day!

What's the use of always weepin',
Makin' trouble last?
What's the use of always keepin'
Thinking of the past?
Each must have his tribulation—
Water with his wine,
Life—it ain't no celebration,
Trouble—I've had mine;
But to-day, ain't it fine!

It's to-day that I'm a-livin',
Not a month ago,
Havin,' losin,' talkin,' givin,'
As time wills it so.
Yesterday a cloud of sorrow
Fell across my way—
It may rain—but say,
Ain't it fine to-day!

P. & R. C. & I. CO. LENDS A HAND TO STAMP OUT DISEASE

Constantly doing things which are a benefit to the town of Mahanoy City, the P. & R. C. & I. Co., last evening made a proposal to the Borough Council at a special meting in which they offered to build a tank and to keep it filled with clean sulphur water for the purpose of sprinkling the streets about town, providing the borough will supply the sprinklers and pay the men to drive them.

The tank is to be constructed at the southern extremity of Linden street on Maple. The water is to come from an abandoned drift on the hillside. According to Lieutenant Wayland, this water is the best disinfectant known, due to the large amount of sulphuric acid it contains.

The members present at the special meeting held last evening were President Gately, Barr, Martin, Fisher, Heinze, Griffith, Adam, Stern.

Othere present were: Secretary Cisarik, Chief Burgess Edwards and fire company representatives.

After the meeting had been called to order President Gately stated that the purpose of the meeting was to come to a decision on the sprinkling question.

Chief Burgess Edwards then related The Reading Company's proposition which had been given to him by Sup't J. H. Pollard.

On motion of Fisher it was decided to accept the company's proposition and President Gately appointed a committee of five to notify "The Reading" Company of their decision.

Mr. Foley in behalf of the fire companies stated that they were ready at any time to do their part and that they are always willing to do anything that will benefit the borough.

On motion of Martin it was decided to pay three men from each company to clean the hose which belongs to the Reading Company which the firemen used to slush the streets with recently.

The council extends a vote of thanks to the Kaier people, the P. & R. C. & I. Co., the Red Cross and others who have come to the front during the epidemic, on motion of Gately and Fisher.

On motion of Fisher, council adjourned.

GERMAN ARMY WILL BE CRUSHED

By William P. Simms.

PARIS ,Oct. 19 — The British are making progress in their new blow with menaces Valenciennes, 7 miles distant.

French and Americans are pressing back the Germans ndthwest of Metz. The Boche army is being gradually squeezed into the net between Metz and Aix la Chapelle. It is believed here that Ludendorff hopes to give present line and Oise line. The Boche army will be demoralized and broken.

The feeling is that if the Allies do not relent increase efforts the Germans will be crushed. It was this knowledge which drove the German military leaders to ask an armistice.

GILBERTON SENDS OUT APPEAL TO WORKERS

TEACHERS OF GILBERTON BOROUGH, ladies and men are very much needed to help out at the hospital.

Can we get a sufficient numbre of volunteers so that ten hours would be sufficient for each to serve per week?

SOMETHING MUST BE DONE AND DONE QUICKLY

The cause of humanity is brought to our very doors. The sick must be cared for and given every necessary attention. Practical nurses are much in need. There is other work incidental to hospitals that should be done by volunteer workers.

There is a certain amount of work that willing hands and brave hearts can do. We appeal to the teachers in particular, because they are temporarily suspended from school duties.

We appeal to every person who will help before it has grown to such proportions as to overtax our abilites.

The sick need attention, and there is a certain kind of work that can be done by those who come forward.

ENROLL TO-DAY AS A RED CROSS VOLUNTEER.

Kindly communicate at once by letter or telephone, offering your service.

BERLIN IS TO BE BOMBARDED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19—Berlin is to be bombed. Majors of the British aerocraft are perfecting a giant craft which will meet the requirements of a big gasoline and bomb load, according to information here.

While the British are developing this important machine others among the allies are striving toward the same end.

There has been much unfounded talk about the war plan for bombing Germany.

Now, however, national authorities say that the new development assures the bombing of Berlin, and will make the handling of T. N. T. easy.

VOLUNTEERS ARE ASKED FOR

Headquarters were opened in the First National bank building yesterday for the relief of influenza stricken families. Goodis brothers generously gave the room without charge.

The diet kitchen in the First Baptist church was also put in commission by the Canteen Committee of the Red Cross and was kept busy meeting the demands for good, wholesome food that is best needed by the sick. There were many willing volunteers to deliver the food, but there is a more urgent need of workers to go into the homes already tagged, seek out new cases, learn their needs whether it be doctor, food, home, care, medicine or clothing. Not a few cases were visited yesterday.

Some opposition was encountered in several homes, where cases were found suffering and no medical help called. Doctors cost money was their explanation. The deputy nurses overrode the opposition, made the patients comfortable as possible and called the doctor. They will see to it also that the medicine prescribed is given at rgeular intervals and nourishing food provided, when needed.

Instances multiplied where father and mother are both down and the children, not yet affected, left to shift for themselves. Misery and suffering were found aplenty but only temporary relief can be given until volunteers come forward in numbers sufficient to disrtict the town. Fifty or more are needed. Working westward the force has reached Main and Centre streets.

Reports from below this section indicate that there is very pressing need for help. Is humanity's call for aid going to fall upon deaf ears in this town that has "gone over the top" in everything that it has aimed at?

A new Emergency Hospital will be opened shortly in the west end of town, but not all of the afflicted can or will go to the hospitals, so home care MUST be provided.

Volunteers can report to Miss Kline at headquarters or Mrs. Will Richards, 416 East Mahanoy Avenue.

Gracious Act of Guinan & Co.

R. Guinan and Company have presented 100 cots for use at the Emergency Hospital. The same have been accepted with thanks by the Board of Health.

OFF AGAIN ON AGAIN THE KAISER

LONDON, Oct. 19—Intervention by the ruling classes in Germany restored the Kaiser after he had actually abdicated and interfered with the sending of a reply to President Wilson's last note, the Chronicle declared to-day.

According to this newspaper the Kaiser abdicated for several hours and probably even signed his abdication. An agreement for an armistice under Wilson's terms was reached and was actually under way when the ruling class intervened. This caused cancellation of note and restored the Kaiser.

The Commission adjudged 7 or 8 cents per zone as unfair.

NURSES AND POLICE FOR GILBERTON

The Gilberton Borough Council held a meeting last evening and decided to place a paid police patrol in all the wards with a view to stamping out the disease. Nurses will also be engaged to assist with cases at the emergency Hospital and at the homes of afflicted. The nurses will receive four dollars per day.

While the Gilberton borough treasury is depleted the council members feel that the time will come when they can discharge this obligation.

The health of the community is the paramount issue at all times. Expense is as the chaff "which the wind driveth away" when considered by the side of the sanitary welfare.

A Remedy for the Disease

Judge Bechtel attaches considerable importance to the preventative steps against influenza being taken by Dr. Kingsbury, probation officer of the court. The medicine is given by hypodermic injection and of 300 patients treated in Pottsville, not one has thus far taken the disease. It seems to be more efficacious than than vaccination for smallpox—Pottsville exchange.

WOODROW WILSON, OUR PRESIDENT

Civilization is now in the process of vindication. Productive of such great good to humanity men live who will not fail it, or in trying to preserve it and make it richer in yield, will die in the effort. Such men must have leaders, though, to triumph. Triumph they will because they are, happily, blessed with leaders as well as a just cause. The shafts of light are penetrating through the darkness of gloom. High-powered intellect together with the heroism of men using force in manner righteous, is overcoming the brute in that part of the race that neglected its soul in its quest of the fleshpots. Spiritual faith intensifies the battle of them who want only right to be victorious. If we have pondered at the strength of Mr. Wilson we must be impressed with one outstanding quality in the man. That is the ability to detach the passion in the human from the faculty of reason or the sense that has been put into man to protect him against the baseness that leads to destruction. Mr. Wilson's state papers and his dealings with the enemy, have shown this ability to apply the logic of reason to momentous events, when it was easy and will continue to be easy, to give way to the brutishness that continues to be part of the complex biology of man.

Mr. Wilson is not a superman, no, but, in plain language, the man is master of himself with the power and the superb courage to hearken and be guided by the fundamentals of the very civilization in which he is everywhere acclaimed as one of the principal crusaders. There, while the German leaders brush these basic principles aside as they view everything from the purely materialistic standpoint, is Mr. Wilson's strength in this hour of the world's Gethsemane. An even more erudite civilization a thousand years from now will appreciate what the leadership of this man and the part of America under his guidance played in saving decent ideals, more than we who are contemporary with the revolutionary and eventful period humanity lives in at the moment. Being actors in the movement we are not disinterested parties and the perspective eludes us, however earnestly we endeavor to attain it. Time has proven the truth of this with regard to many men and many historic events, including those in our own national life, which by comparison with other nations, is as a minute compared with a century.

MONEY TALKS!

Many a man in the street shouts vigorously for an "Unconditional Surrender!"

That is what we all believe in and want are going to get, but we have got to do more than demand it.

The president has done his "bit" toward it. Foch and the Yanks are hitting hard and doing their "bit."

The man who has only cried, "Unconditional Surrender!" and can not back it up with a bond or more is one of those lip patriots who is "willing to let George do it," but ready to tell George "how," and then sit back and take the credit for it.

When a man says, "Unconditional Surrender!" to you say "yes," and ask him right off the bat if he owns liberty bonds.

If he can't show a button tell him that he is a poor stick of an American in spite of the noise he can make.

Also, tell him that the Kaiser will surrender only when he is forced to and that a liberty bond is a lever of force, and there is only one day more in which to ACT instead of TALK.

Christian Endeavor

The Petersburg, Va., union has issued cards announcing all the C. E. meetings held in the city. These cards are posted in the military camps.

The Friends' Society, Corinth, Va., has a gospel team that conducts cottage meetings and rganizes new societies.

The topic for to-morrow is "What Is Christian Citizenship?" The scripture lesson is found in Isaiah 62:-1-7. in a state or nation and enjoying the privileges and benefits of its government and as citizens we have a direct responsibility in its management.

The first step of Christian citizenship is to recognize this responsibility. The next step is to measure up to it. With regard to the first step experience tells us that all too many professing Christians do not see their duty in this matter either through indifference or by design (there are some who believe that government is a matter of "politics" with which they ought not to have anything to do). Much valuable help for efficiency and reform is thus lost to the cause of good government. We are each a part of the whole structure of society—"No man liveth unto himself"—and, whether we like it or not, as Christian citizens we cannot evade our individual responsibility. As to those who do not see their responsibility because of indifference—well, there are no indifferent Christians.

We regard to the second step—measuring up the the responsibility—Jesus gives us a cue as to our duty in the well-known incident of applying "tribute-money" or taxes. The Caesar He spoke of referred to the civil government under which the Jews were living and the "render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's meant more than just paying taxes. As Christians we must first render unto "Caesar" loyalty and devotion, terms synonomous with patriotism. There they may be more things in detain of management that are not as we would like to have them and our duty then is by personal effort in an orderly way to influence those in authority. And then it is necessary for the Christian citizen to openly ally himself with the forces of reform and by voice and vote stand for the things that make for good government. There is no question but that such that is objectionable in what we call "politics" is due to Christian men not being willing to pay the price of personal sacrifice entailed by getting in the game. Aside from the personal benefits derived from our part in good government comes the consciousness of duty performed and what is more—glorifying God. We surely are helping to establish His kingdom among men when we lend ourselves to the establishment of righteousness among among mankind.

This then is Christian citizenship—seeking God's glory even in politics—by first making the home a temple to the Lord, seeing our personal responsibility and then measuring up to it. Then will our land become a praise in the earth."

MAYAS INDIANS BEFORE INCAS

Race That Has Long Since Disappeared Ranked With the Aztecs in Scale of Civilization.

Prescott's Conquest of Peru accounts for the popular belief that all the people of this country were Incas. The truth is that the greatest part of the textiles of ancient Peru belongs to a people that had passed away before the Incas tribes reached the coast.

The Mayas were the ancient race of Indians which settled in the lowlands of Guatemala in Central America. They ranked with the Aztecs in civilization. They excelled in sculpture, cotton weaving and feather work. About the sixth century they are supposed to have disappeared. They left behind them cities like ancient Quirigua, now a mass of ruins overgrown by the jungle. Half buried by tropical growth today the archeologists are uncovering huge monoliths sculptured with strange designs and each bearing a giant face.

The Mayas have disappeared, but the Indians, forming more than half the population of Guatemala, are their direct heirs.

Their bright-colored blankets and scarfs, their primitive methods of barter, their open-air markets filled with great heaps of strange stuffs and articles, should capture the imagination of any modern textile designer with ideas.

CARE FOR ALL STRAY CATS

From time immemorial the stray cats of Florence, Italy, have been cared for. The cloister of San Lorenzo is sacred to poor puss. It is overlooked by the windows of the famous Laurentian library, built by Michelangelo for Pope Clement VII to house the Medicean collection.

All stray cats are taken thither, and at noon every day scraps of meat, etc., collected from house after house, are emptied into the dry moat round the grass. Toward feeding-time one may see cats of all kinds and degrees—black, tortoise-shell, tawny, and white, male and female, young and old—basking in the sun and licking their chops.

Finally, when the food is brought, from every direction cats crowd in, hissing at one another, mewing and making much noise. Then, when they have fed, human snappers-up of unconsidered trifles come round to secure the pieces of paper, etc., for rags.

When a lost cat is found in the city it is taken to San Lorenzo as naturally as every Florence baby is taken to the Baptistry of St. John's to be ...ened. Moreover, when people ... their cats, they ... be

When I Come Home!

WHEN I come home and leave behind
Dark things I would not call to mind,
I'll taste good ale and home-made bread,
And see white sheets and pillows spread;
And there is one who'll softly creep
To kiss me, ere I fall asleep
And tuck me 'neath the counterpane,
And I shall be a boy again
When I come home!

WHEN I come home, from dark to light
And tread the roadways long and white,
And tramp the lanes I tramped of yore,
And see the village greens once more,
The tranquil farms, the meadows free,
The friendly trees that nod to me,
And hear the lark beneath the sun,
'Twill be good pay for what I've done
When I come home!

LESLIE COULSON
(Killed in Action, Oct. 7, 1916)

"'Twill be good pay!" It is the only reward they ask—these fighting men of ours—to come home, victorious. It is the debt we owe—can we pay it in full? No. But we can do all we can do.

Save and try in some small way to pay our debt to those who have fallen. Save honorably—make a religion of it—nothing we can do today here at home touches so closely the heart of life. For saving saves life. Bonds save life. If you buy greatly you will help some strong, clean American boy, in whose heart is ringing the words "when I come home"—really to win through—to return to us—a victorious crusader—a mother's son—alive and well and home again!

WAS ELEGANT SCHEME, BUT—

Great Detective Had Overlooked One Possible Happening, and the Witness Had Not.

There were just 13 guests at Mrs. Hyphen Ramrod's party. She thought it would prove unlucky and when she missed her $8,000 tungsten ring she knew it was. She telephoned Sheerluck Bones, the great detective, immediately after the discovery and a few minutes later he arrived.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he announced in his cold, clear tones, "a tungsten ring worth $8,000 has been stolen and one of you is the thief, not to use a harsher word. Mrs. Hyphen Ramrod wishes me to spare the culprit's feelings, inasmuch as he is her guest. Very well. If you will kindly assemble about the dining table I will cause the lights to be extinguished and slowly count fifty. That will give the guilty party ample time to lay the ring on the table, under cover of the darkness. Otherwise I shall be obliged to search you all. But I should like a witness to be present. Mrs. Ramrod, kindly procure a witness."

Mrs. Ramrod left and returned with a passer-by, a tall man with side whiskers and a vacant stare. The great detective waved his hand, the room was plunged in darkness, and slowly he counted fifty. At "forty-eight" the unmistakable tinkle of tungsten against wood was heard as the stolen ring was tossed on the table. Immediately afterward there was a violent crash, as of breaking glass. The great detective turned on the lights.

The ring was not there. Neither was the witness.—Detroit Free Press.

DO SOMETHING WORTH WHILE

Much Benefit Will Come From Determination to Make Each Day Record of Accomplishment.

The one who starts out in the morning with a determination to do something during the day that will amount to something, that will be distinctive, that will have individuality, that will give him satisfaction at night, is a great deal more likely not to waste his day in frivolous, unproductive work than the one who starts out with no plan.

Begin every day, therefore, with a program and determine that, let what will come, you will carry it out as closely as possible. Follow it up persistently, day after day, and you will be surprised at the result.

Make up your mind at the very outset of the day that you will accomplish something that will amount to something; that you will not allow callers to fritter away your time, and that you will not permit the little annoyances of your business to spoil your day's work. Make up your mind that you will be larger than the trifles which cripple and cramp mediocre lives, and that you will rise above petty annoyances and interruptions and carry out your plans in a large and commanding way.

Make every day of your life count for something; make it tell in the grand results, not merely as an added day, but as an added day with something worthy achieved.

Much Property Reverts to Crown.

Few people realize the large amount of property which passes every year to the crown of England owing to the owners dying without heirs or next-of-kin, and without having made a will. In most of these cases the deceased is an illegitimate person with no children.

As a rule the crown does not appropriate the whole of the property, but makes what is called a compassionate allowance to the relatives of the deceased, although they may not be his relatives according to law, and in some cases to friends and servants who have performed services for him which entitle them to consideration.

The amount of the allowance is determined by the treasury, or, in the case of the estates of persons dying within the duchy of Lancaster, by the chancellor of the duchy.

The money does not pass to the king himself, but to the nation, and thus goes to relieve taxation.

Why Twelve Is Standard Unit.

The numeral 12 was chosen as a standard unit because it contains so many smaller factors; this is the reason why it is still retained as a base in spite of the efforts to replace it by the metric system. All primitive nations found fractions very difficult, and even the Egyptians, who were most proficient in fractions, used methods that were very long and cumbersome. It was a great advantage, therefore, to have a standard unit which could be divided into parts without giving common fractions, and 12 was such a number, as 1-2, 1-3, 1-4 and 1-6 of 12 were all whole numbers.—Science Monthly.

Test of Honesty.

Money never made a man honest. Higher salary rarely secures the services of better men for the public. That has been shown, time and again, when the salary of a position was raised for the purpose of attracting business talent to it. The result usually has been that some hack politician has accepted the higher pay with thanks or else that the sort of business man who was attracted to placeholding by the money offered soon developed into an inferior grade of politician. Whose Fight?

THREE MILLION MEN — half of them in France—many more in training.

But is this all their fight?

It takes ten men at work to keep one fighting man at the front.

It takes millions of dollars just to keep this army fed. It costs thousands of dollars every time one battery of big guns lays down a barrage.

Is it any wonder then, that the United States is spending at the rate of fifty millions of dollars a day in war and war plans? And with that grand total as the interest on a far vaster principal, which must support this colossal cost or all this task will have been in vain, whose fight do you think this is?

yours, all of you who are left behind, as much or even more than it is the man's in the trench.

For that man, though three million strong, cannot raise a hand in the cause of democracy, he cannot even raise a hand in self-defense, except for you.

He is potent only as you are potent. He can fight only as you will fight. The difference is only this: his fight is expressed in nerve and ammunition, yours in work and dollars.

The Fourth Liberty Loan is the world's biggest drive back of the lines. It is the test of the financial reserves of this entire country of ours. It will gauge the power that you intend to put back of the fighting men in France for the next half year or more to come.

HOW RHEUMATISM BEGINS

The excruciating agonies of rheumatism are usually the result of failure of the kidneys to expel poisons from the system. In a majority of cases rheumatism is an indication that uric acid has pervaded the system. If the irritation of these uric acid crystals is allowed to continue, incurable bladder or kidney disease may result. Attend to it at once. Don't resort to temporary relief. The sick kidneys must be restored to health by the use of some sterling remedy which will prevent a return of the disease.

Get some GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. They are a standard world-famous medicine in use for over two hundred years. They have brought back the joys of life to countless thousands of sufferers from rheumatism, lame back, lumbago, sciatica, gall stones, gravel and other affections of the kidneys, liver, stomach, bladder and allied organs. They will attack the poisons at once, clear out the kidneys and urinary tract and the soothing healing oils and herbs will restore the inflamed tissues and organs to normal health. GOLD MEDAL is the original Haarlem Oil imported direct from the home laboratories in Haarlem, Holland, by the Genuine Haarlem Oil Mfg. Co., Haarlem, Holland, American Office, 116 Beekman street, N. FROM NORTH SEA TO VERDUN

LONDON, Oct 19—Allied progress continues on the 200 mile front from the North Sea to Verdun.

This advance is particularly marked between the sea and Sensee and in the Oise region.

The Germans continue to evacuate the Belgian coast and regions to the south. The Belgians were last officially reported on the outskirts of Bruges. Unofficial reports say that the city and Zee Bruges have fallen.

ARE YOU FROM JACKSON?

(Tune: "Are You From Dixie?")

Are you from Jackson, I mean Camp Jackson,
Where the durn'd old sand comes up to your neck,
I'm glad to meet you, how do they feed you?
On old hash, that's been through a wreck.
If squads do "right about," or "left about,"' as you were."
Gosh, you can earn that measly one dollar per.
If you'r efrom Jackson, I mean Camp Jackson,
'Cause I'm from Jackson, too.

(Parody on "Are You from Dixie.")

GIRLS' PATRIOTIC LEAGUE OF THE Y. W. C. A.

The Girls' Patriotic League has a large membership in New Jersey. It has been promoted by the Y. W. C. A. as a part of the war work it has inaugurated among the girls of America. Every girl in the country, whatever her race or creed, is eligible to membership. It has no constitution and no officers. Girls may become members by signing the following pledge:

"I pledge to express my patriotism—

"By doing better than ever before whatever work I have to do.

"By rendering whatever special service I can at this time to my country.

"By living up to the highest standard of character and helping others to do or, and by helping others to do the same."

PUTTING THE "W" IN THE BLUE TRIANGLE.

The "W" in the Y. W. C. A. stands for "Women in War Work." Its symbol is the blue triangle, the emblem of "The Girl He Left Behind Him." The three points of the triangle stand for protection, education and recreation. In color it represents faith, hope and charity. Its area is symbolic of the work the Young Women's Christian Association is doing to help win the war throughout the United States, in France, in Russia, and in practically all parts of the world.

PNEUMONIA GIVING DOCTORS MUCH CONCERN

Influenza was generally on the wane in the county to-day but the treatment of pneumonia patients was giving the doctors greater concern than during the early days of the trouble and the death rate from the pneumonia was high, especially in the western end of the county and the Shamokin district. Pure air and several days of frost, it was believed, would add greatly to the efforts of the physicians to overcome the malady.

The survey reports showed the following cases and deaths to-day for the past 24 hours:

Trevorton, 550 cases, 4 deaths.
Shamokin, 3,050 cases, 31 deaths.
Mt. Carmel, 950 cases, 11 deaths.
Kulpmont, 300 cases, 3 deaths.

THE GIRL WHO TOOK HIS PLACE.

There are today over 12,000,000 women in industry. Two million have entered war industries during the past year. When the Government planned its huge industrial shops the housing of these millions of women was a minor consideration. The Y. W. C. A. was called upon and has undertaken this important service for the Government. Experts studied the situation. Suggestions and plans were drawn and submitted to the Secretary of War and Mr. Otto Eidlitz, chairman of the Housing Committee of the Council for National Defence. These suggestions were put in pamphlet form and distributed to seven thousand manufacturers. They are now accepted as authoritative for the housing of women war workers.

IN THE WAKE OF THE "FLU"

POTTSVILLE, Oct. 19.—With a toll of over 800 deaths already reported the pneumonia epidemic following in the wake of the "Flu" was still sweeping the county to-day, but in the opinion of the medical men at the headquarters of the Third Medical District, the epidemic was still on the wane in the eastern sections of the county and growing more serious, by reason of the complications following it in the western end of the county and in Northumberland which is also a part of the Third District.

The number of cases shown in the officials' report to-day were as follows: Trevorton 650; Shamokin 3,500; Mt. From Tamaqua to Trevorton and from Tamaqua to Lykens, there were reported 22,159 cases, against reports covering 21,587 cases yesterday.

The death rate has been unusually high in some sections where the pneumonia has fully developed. In Minersville there have been over 300 deaths to date and in Pottsvile about 140, including those in the emergency hospitals. The deaths showing in the official reports for yesterday were as follows: Trevorton 4; Shamokin 26; Mt. Carmel 4; Kulpmont 4; Locust Gap 1; Ashland 4; Girardville 4; Gordon 3; Mahanoy Plane 3; Maizeville 8; Gilberton 6; Frackville 5; New Philadelphia 1; Cumbola 1; St. Cair 7; Arnout's Addition 1; Maryd 1; Seltzer City 1; Pottsville 12; Tamaqua 10; Schuylkill Haven 1; Auburn 1; Shenandoah 1; Minersville 3; Branchdale 1; Pine Grove 4; Tower City 2; Tremont 1; Donaldson 1; Newtown 1; Valley View 1; and Williamstown 1.

Extension of the infected areas and new cases were reported at Lykens, Tower City, Tremont, Shamokin, Mt. Carmel and adjacent points.

Medical authorities are of the opinion that the high point in the disease will be reached about Sunday in those sections which have not passed the crest or high point in the epidemic Drastic regulations calling for rigid quarantines were forwarded to all sections by Chief Medical Officer J. B. Rogers to-day.

A CALL FOR HELP TO ASSIST AT HOSPITAL

Can we get a sufficient number of volunteers so that ten hours would be sufficient for each to serve per week

SOMETHING MUST BE DONE AND DONE QUICKLY.

The cause of humanity is brought to our very doors. The sick must be cared for and given every necessary attention. Practical nurses are much in need. There is other work incidental to hospitals that should be done by volunteer workers.

There is a certain amount of work that willing hands and brave hearts can do. I appeal to the teachers in particular, because they are temporarily suspendid from school duties.

I appeal to every person who will ic before it has gdown to such proportions as to overtax our abilities.

The sick need much attention, and there is a certain kind of work that can be done by those who come forward.

BALANCE WILL BE RAISED LATER

POTTSVILLE, Oct. 19.—While the Liberty Loan campaign has been closed in many sections of the county because the Treasury officials did not thing it advisable to extend the period for receiving subscriptions, there are still about half the regular subscriptions to be taken in Schuylkill County, and these will be turned into the county banks as soon as the epidemic passes over.

About $4,000,000 of the county quota has been recorded through the regular sales force, and turned into the banks by the respective soliciting organizations; but the greater part of the work, the colliery canvasses and the solicitation of some of the communities remains to be accomplished, and when the influenza epidemic is ended, this work will be done by the county Liberty Loan orgnaization as a selling force. No trouble will be experienced in raising the county quota and the total amount credited to the county may exceed $12,000,000 but until the "flu" has disappeared no effort will be made to put the finishing touches to the campaign.

Since the epidemic struck the county three bank officials, at least 100 solicitors and thousands of subscribers have either died or have been incapacitated, and it was realized long since the disease would put a big hole in the showing, but it was not until the medical authorities decreed that no colliery subscriptions could be taken that the campaign committees temporarily threw up their hands.

A canvas of the situation after the final reports are in on Monday is expected to show about $4,250,000 or more in the banks with the rest of the quota under a reserve apportionment to be set aside for future disposal.

NO PEACE BUSINESS WITH PRES'T WILSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—President Wilson to-day answered Austria-Hungary's plea for peace with the reply that conditions are so altered since January 8th that we can only acept now their autonomy plan as a basis of peace. Instead he insisted that the oppressed people of the dual empire shall be the judges of what action on the part of the Austro-Hungarian Government will satisfy their aspirations.

In substance it was a refusal to do any peace business with Austria.

MILLSTONE ABOUT GERMAN NECK

WASHINGTON Oct. 21—With Austria and Hungary only a millstone around the German neck, military authorities here today are studying war means and the basis of prospective elimination of these nations. Such a break in one way would strengthen Germany. It would permit her to fight a stiff defensive warfare on certain lines at her own doors and would require that the U. S. and her allies put forth a maximum effort to bring the 1919 victory.

KAISER BILL HAS COME DOWN AT LAST

BERLIN, Oct. 21, (via. Wireless via. London—Germany replying to President Wilson announced that orders have been issued to all submarine commanders to stop the torpedoing of passenger ships.

"In oredr to avoid anything that might hamper the work of peace Germany has caused orders to be dispatched to all submarine commanders precluding the torpedoing of passenger ships however, for technical reasons, being able to guarantee that these orders will reach every single submarine at sea before it returns."

The German reply was handed by the Government last night to the Swiss Legaion in Berlin for transmission to the U. S. The note begins as follows:

"In accepting the proposal for the evacuation of occupied territory the German Government started from the assumption that the procedure for this evacuation and the conditions of the armistice should be left to the judgment of the military advisers and

51 "FLU" CASES AT BUCK MOUNTAIN

There are fifty-one cases of influenza reported from Buck Mountain with several deaths occurring during the past few days. The hamlet is in need of medical aid. It is with difficulty that physicians are induced to visit patients there as they are so busy in this city. Men and women and children are reported rolling about the floors in the dying throes of the malady with no assistance at hand.

If help is not forthcoming, say the good residents up there, Buck Mountain will see the reign of a carnival of death.

The case is referred to the property authorities. Buck Mountain is crying for help. Who will step forward in mercy toward her?

Perhaps the Mahanoy Township Board of Health is not aware of the alarming conditions existing at Buck Mountain. Park Place is said to be in the throes of a serious epidemic also. A physician from Camp Crane was sent to Park Place yesterday. Buck Mountain remains neglected.

NOTICE, PHYSICIANS

All physicians are requested to report promptly to the Secretary of the Board of Health all existing case of influenza in this city.

By order of Board of Health.

SABBATH BROUGHT GLOOM TO MANY FAMILY CIRCLES

The Sabbath brought gloom to many a household, taking therefrom loved ones through the ravages of the Spanish influenza epidemic. The situation is tense and most surely demands stout hearts to withstand the toll of death and the poignant sorrow which has been occasioned during the past few hours.

"Friend after friend departs—
Who has not lost a friend?
There is no union here of hearts,
That has not here an end.

Beyond this vale of tears,
There is a life above.
Unfettered by the flight of years,
And all that life is love."

Over the Sabbath the following have passed away over the Jordan causing a pall to fall upon the hearts of many:

LAURA JONES REED

At 1 o'clock this afternoon, Laura, the beloved wife of Health Officer Frank F. Reed, passed away at the family residence, 26 East Mahanoy Avenue, after an illness of months which culminated fatally in her contraction of the prevailing malady, attended by pneumonia. All that the best of medicial attention and loving ministrations by loved ones could afford, availed nothing.

The deceased was as good-hearted a woman as we ever knew and if all who partook of her hospitality during life will drop a tear to-day in her memory, a floodtide of grief will mark the hearing of the sad news that Laura Jones Reed has passed away. She lived in Mahanoy City nearly all of her 61 years. Socially she was a member of the Eastern Star and religiously was an adherent of St. John's English Lutheran church. For years her husband, with her invaluable assistance, conducted the Kaier Hotel on North Main street.

Her immediate survivors are her husband, Health Officer and Ex-Postmaster F. F. Reed, two children, Mrs. Milton E. Crawshaw and councilman Ronald S. Reed, who, we are pleased to say, is convalescing from a severe illness.

One sister and three brothers also mourn their loss—Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder, 13 East Centre street; Joshana D. Jones, Akron, Ohio; Albert, Philadelphia; Dr. J. Arthur Jones, Cleveland, Ohio.

The departed was a daughter of the late Mr and Mrs. Thos. T. Jones.

To all the survivors deep and sincere sympathy is extended.

HARRY C. SEIVERT

Harry C. Seivert, for years a well known meat proprietor and butter and egg broker of this city, died at his home on East Centre above Main street Sunday morning at 10:10 o'clock after an illness of a week. Dissolution was due to pneumonia and complications, his case baffling the best of medical skill.

The deceased was born near Hamburg fifty-nine years ago but his residence here extends over many years. He was held in high esteem, was a held citizen of intrinsic worth and was found at all times to be a man worth while by those who knew him best. Unassuming, but genuine, kind and generous, his passing is deeply regretted by his many friends in this city.

His survivors are his estimable wife (formerly Miss Minnie Hersker), three brothers and three sisters. The brothers and sisters are: George, of California; Frank, of Pittsburgh; Albert, of Hamburg and Mrs. John

Sir Eric Geddes, who once on a time was a civil engineer in Ohio, but who is now first lord of the admiralty in Great Britain, has come to the United States to consider important problems with Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, and his admirals.

SILVER LININGS ARE APPEARING

Silver linnings are appearing on the influenza epidemic clouds, which for over three weeks have gloomily and lugubriously over this city.

Although many hearts have been saddened by the taking away of loved ones, many hearts are now wearning rainbows and are arising from the slough of despondency.

The time has come to cheer up. The epidemic is waning. It appears to have run its course in this city and is moving westward.

Acting Health Officer Post and Acting Secretary John Goyne today were hopeful over the situation, which has improved to great extent over that of Saturday and the preceding days of last week. It is true that death has cut a wide swath, but these were cases which had such a great start that local physicians and the local Emergency Hospitals were not really given a fair chance. In several instances persons were on the verge of death before taken to the Emergency Hospital. In other instances a physician was not called until death stared the victims in the face.

Encouraging reports came pouring into this office from all parts of the county today and with a few more dry cool days and the exercise of care and vigilance the epidemic will soon be conquered.

Conditions today are far better than they have been for the past three weeks. A little co-operation and a little patience and no fretting, will aid in going over the top to sound sanitary conditions once more in our little city.

Cheer up, help others to cheer up. After all it is mind that rules the world.

But do not relax on caution and care.

Myers Obsequies

The funeral of the late Thomas J. Myers, who died on Saturday morning, will be held at the Myers home, 529 West Centre street, tomorrow morning (Tuesday) at 9 o'clock. Father McEnroe will officiate. The remains will be taken to Girardville for burial in the family plot. 1t

Ashland had fourteen deaths within the last 48 hours.

HURLED BACK OVER THE LYS

LONDON, Oct. 21.— The Germans have been hurled back over the Lys River at three places and the Allies are driving close to Ghent and Tournai. Field Marshal Haig reported today in a special statement on the Flanders offensive. His report made it evident that the attempt of the Germans to make a stand at the Lys River has been overwhelmed and that the Allies are already in touch with the next defence lines along the Escaut River.

AMERICAN TROOPS CLOSING IN

HEALTH HINTS

Loss of sleep is one of the predising causes of disease. Every adult should try to secure eight of ten hours of sleep. Children should sleep longer. It would be a good plan to compel every child to go to bed at seven o'clock and remain there until eight o'clock the following morning. Over eating and under eating are also prolific causes of disease. The overfed man should restrict his diet while the underfed should be fed more liberally. The presence of fever or increased heat of the body seems to make most people hysterical, while, as a matter of fact, it is not the presence but the absence of fever that should cause alarm. Hyperpyrexia, or excessive heat production, is easily and safely controlled by means of the hot pack while subnormal temperature cannot be raised by any means at our command. All that we can do is to surround the patient's body with hot water bottles and to cover him with blankets in order to prevent too great a loss of body heat.

A study of the processes of Nature has convinced me that whatever she does is usually done for a useful purpose. Nature is not an anarchist. She is conservative and whenever she does something unusual under unusual conditions, especially if she has been observed to do the same thing in similar conditions, the presumption is that she is acting constructively and not destructively. I think the following explanation will give the clue to the meaning of fever.

Invasion of the body by pathogenic bacteria is regularly attended by a reactionary fever and in invasion by pathogenic plasmodia the same thing may happen. In these bacterial or plasmodial diseases which are regularly accompanied by a continued or an intermittent fever, the febrile movement declines or disappears when recovery is in sight or the activity of the pathogenic microorganisms has been controlled.

The height of the fever in general is in proportion to the severity of the fever and when the height of the fever is not in proportion to the severity of the infection but is comparatively low. The prognosis is worse than when the fever is as usual. In pneumonia, with a considerable involvement of lining or a particularly virulent type of infection and a comparatively low temperature, the prognosis is more grave than when the temperature is of the usual degree.

There is a certain unavoidable mortality in pneumonia at the extremes of life—in the very old or the very young the mortality is high on account of this lessened resistance. In persons suffering from degeneration of the heart muscles or from valvular disease. Those cases should be prevented because making a dignosis of pneumonoia means passing the sentence of death.

The mortality is high in those persons who keep on their feet until their reserve strength is exhausted, when they collapse and are put to bed in a dying condition. Excluding these cases, the average person who contracts pneumonia should get well, provided no curative treatment is attempted.

In epidemics of children's diseases—scarlet fever, measles, whooping cough or diphtheria — calcium sulphide in one-sixth grain doses every two hours until the body becomes saturated which state is indicated, the characteristic odor of the breath, will render the body immune to influenza of anybody because a body urated with calcium sulphide is proof.

Up at the Emergency hospital brother Scouts are doing errands and messenger service that is a big help to the authorities in charge of the institution.

Over in Mt. Carmel the entire force of school teachers has been enlisted in fighting the epidemic. They are meeting with big success. In Hazleton sixty teachers volunteered for the work. Shenandoah teachers finished a canvass of that town yesterday and are now engaged caring for the sick and afflicted. Two new volunteers were added to the local force on Saturday. They are Mises Catharine Gabbert and Alice Martin. More than two hundred visits have been made by these aids and they are doing a wonderful work helping families who are unable to help themselves, and there is much that has to be left untouched because of inadequate help. Volunteers from the teaching force of to are assisting at the diet kitchen of t Red Cross in the First Baptist chur and are delivering good, wholeso soup to many of the affected famil every day. This will continue as l as there is need for it. Efforts being made to open a diet kitche the west end of town also, but ladies are handicapped because buildings available are now equip with stoves.

Women Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for Health Restored.

In almost every neighborhood in America are women who have tried this standard remedy for female ills and know its worth.

Athol, Mass.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me a world of good. I suffered from a weakness and a great deal of pain every month and nothing brought me any relief until I tried this famous medicine. I am a different woman since I took it and want others who suffer to know about it."—Mrs. ARTHUR LAWSON, 559 Cottage St., Athol, Mass.

San Francisco, Cal.—"I was in a very weak nervous condition, having suffered terribly from a female trouble for over five years. I had taken all kinds of medicine and had many different doctors and they all said I would have to be operated on, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me entirely and now I am a strong well woman."—Mrs. H. ROSSKAMP, 1447 Devisadero St., San Francisco, Cal.

THE COST OF FOOD

The figures recently given out by the government as to food costs show a staggering increase. Prices of farm products are up 63 per cent. over five years ago.

Yet a study of the different items shows that these costs can, to a partial extent be controlled. Potatoes and several other vegetables have declined during the past year. That is due to the increase in back yard gardens. And the product of these gardens should be even more.

Many people during the first two seasons only cultivated little patches because it is always hard to work new land. Now that they have dug over their back yards, and got the earth to working easily, they should have courage to dig up some more. Every yard capable of vegetable raising must be made to do its duty.

Also gardeners should have learned by their previous mistakes. It is a fairly simple thing to raise vegetables, if you buy good fertilizer and seed and keep weeds out. With every one raising a good sized garden, vegetable prices should be lower than they were five years ago.

Meat prices, of course, can not be controlled. They depend upon the world wide conditions that we can not help. The government and the agricultural schools should be able to encourage the raising of more cattle and sheep so that in time meat will come down somewhat. Next to the war problem, no more important duty rests on the government than this, to find out how our people can again secure an adequate supply of meat at fair prices.

Many people, of course, have met the difficulty by cutting out meat to a large extent. They find themselves no worse off. A flourishing back garden is a wonderful source of independence. Next thing to it is a good storage cellar where vegetables can be kept through the winter. Our modern houses are apt to lack this important feature.

LABOR AFTER THE WAR

Some of the brightest minds of the country are now working on the problem of finding work for all the soldiers after the war. We have been slow in taking up this problem. The other nations have been working on it almost from the start of the war. Our readjustment from a pacific nation to a warlike one was so sudden and startling, that it gave us little time to study this great question.

The idea of getting large numbers of the returning soldiers to take farms has been much discussed, and there is great merit in it. But this at best will take care of only a fraction of them. Some way must be found to secure employment for the rest. If a large part of these men should remain idle, it would create industrial depression. The effect upon the character of those unable to find work would not be good.

It is going to take a very thorough organization all over the country to accomplish this work. There should be a commission to look after it in every state, with representatives in every county. The most obvious thing, of course, is to get the soldier back into his old job, if possible. Employers should be made to feel that the sentiment of the community demands that men be taken back, even if it makes inconvenience to other people.

There would, no doubt, be many cases where soldiers could get better jobs and fill vacancies now existing, if they could have a little vocational training or other education. The government ought to make it easy for men to get needed training by which they could advance. All kinds of construction work has been so held up by the war, that enterprises of this kind ought to make a considerable demand for labor. If the thing is taken hold of systematically, it should be possible to put all the soldiers to work.

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes —Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

THE GIRL WHO TOOK HIS PLACE.

There are today over 12,000,000 women in industry. Two million have entered war industries during the past year. When the Government planned its huge industrial shops the housing of these millions of women was a minor consideration. The Y. W. C. A. was called upon and has undertaken this important service for the Government. Experts studied the situation. Suggestions and plans were drawn and submitted to the Secretary of War and Mr. Otto Eidlitz, chairman of the Housing Committee of the Council for National Defence. These suggestions were put in pamphlet form and distributed to seven thousand manufacturers. They are now accepted as authoritative for the housing of women war workers.

HIS SWELLED HEAD REDUCED

A certain husky, raw-boned recruit from an interior town reached Camp Upton recently and brought forth two sets of boxing gloves. He confided to his comrades that he was a mighty fine boxer, and "back home" he had thrashed everybody who had tried conclusions with him. This declaration naturally was an invitation, and all promptly professed to know nothing of the manly art and asked if he would give them a little instruction.

Flattered, the youth stated his willingness to oblige, and the following day was set for the lesson. The pupils promptly hunted up Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion, who was and is the boxing instructor at Upton, and arranged for him to meet the recruit. The latter was informed that he was to give the first lesson to a very "fresh" youngster, and he agreed to put the unknown in his place. When Leonard was brought before him he wanted to back out, stating that he couldn't think of boxing with a man so much smaller than himself.

Leonard, however, insisted that the lesson go on, and each put on his gloves. During the "lesson" Benny never struck a blow, but contented himself with feinting, ducking, dodging and blocking until the volunteer teacher was so exhausted with his own efforts that he could scarcely stand. He stopped finally, congratulated the champion on his showing, said that he did very well "for an amateur," and then made his way to the barracks to bed. When, later, he was informed of the identity of his antagonist, he said several things more or less complimentary to those who had put up the job on him and sent the gloves to his home.—Leslie's Weekly.

CITY NO LONGER PEST HOLE

British Authorities Have Worked Wonders in Cleaning Up Ancient Capital of the Caliphs.

Paved streets, electric street lights, municipal sprinkling carts, a modern fire department—these are all in old Bagdad now, says Cleveland Plaindealer. Or, rather, they are in new Bagdad, for the slumberous city on the Tigris has assumed a new aspect since the British drove out the Turks sixteen months ago.

Nothing now remains of the filth and squalor of the Turkish regime. The place is still oriental, but the oriental atmosphere is less odoriferous. Dead cats are not left to decompose in the middle of narrow streets. Great Britain has a wonderful way of leaving orientalism unspoiled while making it reasonably clean. The British soldier cannot abide filth. His sanitary squads penetrate the remotest mews and the most deeply hidden cesspools, and the mews and the cesspools cease to offend. The natives soon discover that cleanliness is not a horror.

The Arab is not naturally vile, but he has fallen into the ways of his Turkish masters. Bagdad is as interesting as ever, and ever so much safer. After the war many British tourists will visit the ancient Abbaside capital, where ruled the mighty caliphs, and will note with interest the British benefits bestowed on the city that Wilhelm und Gott once picked as the far goalpost of Mitteleuropa.

Fix the Furnace Now.

The prudent man will have his furnace put in thorough order at the present time. Letting it go till fall would be rash at a time when labor is so scarce as now and when there are sure to be so many other people anxious to have their furnaces put in order. There was considerable complaint last winter of the quality of some of the coal, which was explained by the stories received from the mining regions of the working over of heaps at the pit heads, some of which represented the accumulation of many years. This winter the coal may contain fewer impurities, but necessity for getting the greatest possible return in service for every pound burned will be obvious in view of the rule that consumers are allowed to purchase only a percentage of the total amount they used for heating their houses a year ago. A furnace that is out of order will waste a great deal of coal. No one can afford to have that sort of thing going on at the present time.

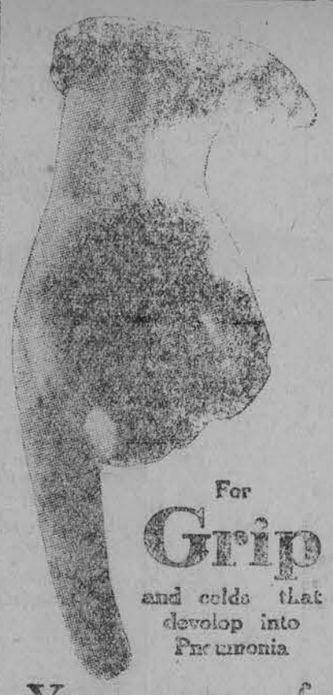

Proper Breathing Help to Swimmers.

Anyone's body will float when the lungs are filled with air, but as a human body is a trifle heavier than water it will sink unless buoyed up by air in the lungs, says Dan Beard in Boys' Life. Consequently if you learn to breathe so that you blow out your breath in time to intake a new breath before you sink, it is evident that you will not sink at all. When breathing while swimming do not take too many breaths, but let your mouth serve as the intake. It can do it quicker than your nose because your mouth is bigger than your nostrils or nose holes.

Now if any of you tenderfeet drown this season it will be your own fault. Breathe right and you will float.

German Resources.

The resources of Germany before the war were estimated to be $80,000,000,000. The annual expenditures then of the imperial government were about $800,000,000. Her debt now is $30,000,000,000, and her resources and man power have been severely impaired. After the war she is confronted with additional expenditures growing out of the war totaling some $4,000,000,000.

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright, alert—a good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particulary those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby, proposed, in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:

That article nine, section eight, be amended to read as follows:

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as provided herein, and in section fifteen of this article, shall never exceed seven (7) per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, but the debt of the city of Philadelphia may be increased in such amount that the total city debt of said city shall not exceed ten per centum (10) upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two (2) per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law. The method of determining such amount, so to be deducted, may be prescribed by the General Assembly. In incurring indebtedness for any purpose the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty (50) years from the date thereof, with provision for a sinking-fund sufficient to retire said obligations at maturity, the payment to such sinking-fund to be in equal or graded annual or other periodical installments. Where any indebtedness shall be or shall have been incurred by said city of Phila. for the purpose of the construction or improvement of public works of any character from which income or revenue is to be derived by said city, or for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves or docks owned or to be owned by said city, such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for, and may include the amount of, the interest and sinking fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction, and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred and sinking fund charges as required by section ten, article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of said work.

SPANISH INFLUENZA--WHAT IT IS AND HOW IT SHOULD BE TREATED

Nothing New—Simply The Old Grippe, or la Grippe That Epidemic in 1889-90, Only Then It Came From Russia By Way of France and This Time by Way of Spain

Always Call a Doctor to Bed and Stay Quiet — Take a Laxative—Eat Plenty of Nourishing Food — Keep Up Your Strength—Nature is the Only "Cure."

NO OCCASION FOR PANIC

Spanish Influenza which appeared Spain in May has all the appearce of grip or la grippe, which has vept over the world in numerous epemics as far back as history runs. ippocrates refers to an epidemic in 2 B. C. which is regarded by many have been influenza. Every cenry has had its attacks. Beginning 1831, this country has had five demics, the last in 1889-90.

THE SYMPTOMS

Up, or influenza as it is now calluually begins with a chill followy aching, feverishness and someis nausea and dizziness and a gen feeling of weakness and depresn. The temperature is from 100 to , and the fever usually lasts from ee to five days. The germs attack mucous membrane or lining of the passages—nose, throat and bronial tubes—there is usually a hard ugh, especially bad at night, often imes a sore throat or tonsilitis, and requently all the appearances of a severe head cold.

THE TREATMENT

Go to bed at the first symptoms, ot only for your own sake but to avoid spreading the disease to others—take a purgative, eat plenty of nourishing food, remain perfectly quiet and don't worry. Quinine, aspirin or Dover's Powder, etc., may be administered by the physician's directions to relieve the aching. But there is no cure or specific for influenza—the disease must run its course, but nature herself will throw off the attack if only you keep up your strength. The chief danger lies in the complications which may arise. Influenza so weakens the bodily resistance that there is danger of pneumonia or bronchitis developing and sometimes inflammation of the mid- ear or heart affections. For these sons, it is very important that the ient remain in bed until his ngth returns—stay in bed at least wo days or more after the fever has left you, or if you are over 50 or not strong, stay in bed four days or more, according to the severity of the ttack.

EXTERNAL APPLICATIONS

In order to stimulate the lining of air passages to throw off the grip ms, to aid in loosening the gm and keeping the air passages open, thus making the breathing easier, Vick's Vapo Rub will be found effective. Hot, wet towels should be applied over the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores. Then Vapo Rub should be rubbed in over the parts until the skin is red, spread on thickly and covered with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around around the neck as the heat of the body liberates the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors, inhaled with each breath, carry the medication directly to the parts affected. At the same time, Vapo Rub is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, attracting the blood to the surface and thus aids in relieving the congestion within.

HOW TO AVOID THE DISEASE

Evidence seems to prove that this is a germ disease, spread principally by human contact, chiefly through coughing, sneezing or spitting. So avoid persons having colds, which means avoiding crowds — common drinking cups, roller towels, etc. Keep up your bodily strength by plenty of exercise in the open air, and good food.

KEEP FREE FROM COLDS

Above all, keep free from colds, as colds, as colds irritate the lining of the air passages and render them much better breeding places for the germs. Use Vick's Vapo Rub at the very first sign of a cold. For a head cold, melt a little Vapo Rub in a spoon and inhale the vapors, ir better better still, use Vapo Rub in a benzoin steam kettle. If this is not available, use an ordinary tea-kettle. Fill half full of boiling water, put in half a teaspoon of Vapo Rub from time to time — keep the kettle just slowly boiling and inhale the steam arising.

NOTE—Vick's Vapo Rub is the discovrey of a North Carolina druggist, who found how to combine in salve form Menthol and Camphor with such essential oils as Eucalyptus, Thyme, Cubebs, etc., so that when the salve is applied to the body heat, these ingredients are liberated in the form of vapors.

Vapo Rub is comparatively new in New York, New England and a few western states, where it is just now being introduced. In other sections of the country, however, it is the standard home remedy in over a million homes for all forms of cold troubles—more than six million jars were sold last year.

It is particularly recommended for children's croup or colds, since it is externally applied and, therefore, can be used as freely as desired without the slightest harmful effects. Vapo Rub can be had in three sizes, 30c, 60c and $1.20, at all druggists. adv that the actual standard of power which both sides in the field have, should form the basis of the arrangement safeguarding and guaranteeing this standard."

With reference to the responsibility of the existing governments the note says:

The leaders of the great parties of the Reichstag are members of the Government. In future no government can take office or continue office without possessing the confidence of a majority of the Reichstag.

The responsibility of the Chancellor of the Empire to the representatives of the people is being legally developed and safeguarded. The first act to the new government has been to lay before the government a bill to alter the constitution of the Empire so that consent of the representatives of the people is required for decision as to war and peace.

ENEMY FIGHTING LIKE MADMEN

PARIS Oct. 21—The Germans back turning movement continues at full swing today. Hun Army under Prince Rupprecht Gen. von Boehn and the Imperial Crown Prince pivoting about Metz are falling back from Belgium and France. The enemy line is swinging like a great gate. The retreat is becoming more rapid in proportion to the distance from the hinge on it.

During The Epidemic

DON'T TAKE ANY CHANCES

No, don't take any chance. If you detect the first stages of a cold, and feel creepy and chilly and a soreness throughout the body, with sneezing and coughing perhaps, either consult a doctor or get a full size bottle of CHASCO-VIN, a Tasteless Cod Liver and Iron and take it regularly; after each meal and at bed time. If you do this you wil almost surely escape a case of Spanish influenza. But do act quickly for your own sake.

CHASCO-VIN is just the medicine for all run-down conditions and a splendidreconstructive tonic for those who are recovreing from pneumonia, grip or any other serious illness.

You can get CHASCO-VIN in Mahanoy City at H. J. Krebs' drug store.

"It was a lucky day for me when I got this Tanlac and I certainly do thank the fellow who recommended it to me. Tanlac is the only medicine that really ever helped me, and I had tried everything. SABBATH BROUGHT GLOOM TO MANY FAMILY CIRCLES

HARRY EMANUEL CHRIST

The sympathy of the community goes out today to School Director H. K. Christ and wife and to the young widow who this morning were bereft of their son and husband, Harry Emanuel Christ, who on Friday next would have attained his 29th birthday anniversary.

Dissolution, which took place at the home of his father-in-law, Mine Foreman Adam Wingert, 426 East Mahanoy Avenue, was due to pneumonia and complications from which he has suffered the past nine days. The announcement of his death came as a big shock to his legion of friends in this city.

Epidemic Situation In Mahanoy City

*Homes placarded yesterday	48
Homes placarded to date	523
Approximate cases in this city	1169
New cases reported	9
Died in hospital	2
Patients discharged as cured	4
Patients admitted yesterday	4
Total patients in hospital	61
Deaths during epidemic in this city and Mahanoy Township, including soldiers dying at camp	178

*It will be noticed that 48 homes were placarded yesterday. This does not mean that 48 new cases were reported. Some of these homes were included in the doctors' lists bfore but it was not until yesterday that the health authorities were able to placard the same.

Yesterday was the brightest day since the epidemic started, according to Health Secretary John Goyne, who reports only nine cases. The number of deaths during the past twenty-four hours was materially diminished in this city. Let us continue to exercise care and caution. That is the way to have the ban lifted.

TO SET DATE FOR SALOON OPENING WEDNESDAY

The State Department of Health at Harrisburg will meet Wednesday and expects at that time to be able to set a definite date for the reopening of saloons and the general lifting of the ban that was made to fight the influenza.

PRIVATE RAFFERTY

Private Rafferty, of Gilberton, died at Camp Mills, Long Island, N. Y. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Rafferty, Gilberton. He was interred this morning at St. Joseph's cemetery, Frackville.

"FLU" APPEARS TO BE FLYING AWAY

We have come to the turn in the road.

We can see the rainbow in the sky. Many friends have "gone west" as the result of the calamitous influenza which is sweeping the East and is now rapidly carrying its messages of death to the West.

Mahanoy City had only nine new cases reported yesterday. The toll of death is lessened, according to official information.

From Minersville, Pottsville, Frackville, Tamaqua, Gilberton, Shenandoah, Ashland and Girardville, come the most encouraging reports. The storm cloud of influenza leaving death and sorrow in its wake appears to be dissipating. Let us hope that it will never come again.

However, let us continue to wage battle against the hideous monster until the last vestige of the disease has been stamped out.

DOCTORS DURING THE EPIDEMIC

Medical men and women here and elsewhere have shown a devotion to duty and a disregard of self and even of their own lives that have never been surpassed within the knowledge of any one living. Within the past few weeks several doctors have been commanded to give up their work and take to their bed and several are now perilously near the breaking pooint from loss of sleep, irregular and inadequate feeding and constant anxiety. And not one doctor have we known who has thought of resorting to profiteering. On the other hand, their services are being given with no thought of profiteering through a calamitous situation.

SUP'T POLLARD OF THE P. & R. C. & I. CO. DIED THIS MORNING

Mahanoy City was severely shocked this morning when it was announced that John H. Pollard had died suddenly at his home on South Main street. The end came very suddenly from an attack of heart failure.

Although Mr. Pollard has been in failing health the past two years suffering from diabetes, under the best of medical treatment he showed improvement from day to day.

SUP'T JOHN H. POLLARD
P. & R. C. & I. C.

Since the Spanish influenza epidemic visited this city he has shown the greatest of activity and interest, securing the guarantee of the P. & R. C. & I. Co. to pay the expenses of the converting of the High School into an hospital for emergency purposes while his work in Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., K. of C. and Liberty Loan drives as well as all others which pertained to the welfare of city or county was worthy of the highest praise. It was while in the act of assisting in placing cots at the High School building shortly before ten o'clock this morning that he was stricken. He was conveyed to his home in an automobile but insisted on walking into his home where he collapsed. Drs. Bissell and Seligman were summoned but Mr. Pollard expired in a few minutes from heart failure.

Mahanoy City can ill afford the loss of such a gigantic man as John H. Pollard. He was one of the city's real assets. Many a favor was bestowed on this city, many accomplished ends were realized through the influence and effort of Mr. Pollard. His heart was in his home town, a characteristic of every good, loyal citizen.

Sketch of Career.

Mr. Pollard, of English ancestry, was born in Pottsville, April 19th, 1854, and consequently was in his sixty-fifth year. He received his education in the Pottsville public schools after which he entered the office of Harris Brothers, Mining and Civil engineers, who were at the time in charge of the Girard Estates in Schuylkll County. Later Mr. Heber Thompson took charge of these estates and Mr. Pollard continued his study under Mr. Thompson. In 1878 he entered the employ of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company as a member of the engineering corps at Ashland covering the territory from Ashland to Shenandoah and subsequently having charge of the engineering department for the Mahanoy City and Shenandoah districts of the company. On April 1st, 1905, he was transferred to Mahanoy City in the capacity of Division Sup't for the P. & R. C. & I. Co., his territory including St. Nicholas and Mahanoy City. Recently this was divided.

He was a director of the First National Bank, this city; and belonged to the Ashland Lodge, No. 294, F. and A. M., Griscom Chapter, No. 219, R. A. GIVE YOUR HELP AND GIVE IT NOW

Husband and wife both desperately ill in one bed with two children, one 2 and the other 3 years old at their feet and another, a babe in a cradle, all suffering with influenza or a kindred ailment, is what nursing aids found in an uptown home yesterday. Father and mother from time to time in turns managed to crawl downstairs for nourishment for themselves and the little ones but every effort left them just so much weaker. Between times the mother tried to keep the baby's milk bottle warm by snuggling it close to her feverish body while with one hand stretched over the edge of the bed she rocked the cradle.

This is not an uncommon case but one of many that exist all over the town that serves to illustrate the desperate need for help if the death rate is to be checked. The doctors are doing a wonderful work but they can't be doctor and nurses too. The Emergency Hospital is crowded. Another will be opened in the High Schcol building but many of the sufferes refuse to leave their homes and have to be cared for.

Miss Ruth Burrows, a Reformed church deaconess arrived in town yesterday in response to an appeal from Rev. Smith, of St. Paul's Reformed church. She is an experienced community worker and will be able to give valuable aid.

Mrs. Thos. O'Brien, of High Point, joined the nursing force yesterday. She will divide her time between community work and the Emergeney Hospial. The Misses Amy Fermier, Teckla Smith, Jessie Green and Catharine Peel, registered for service at headquarters last night and were assigned to-day. The Camp Fire Girls volunteered to deliver soup.

DR. H. D. HERMANY MARTYR TO DUTY

Offering up his life as a sacrifice for stricken humanity, Dr. Horace D. Hermany, one of the city's well known physicians, died at his home, 75 South Main street, at 8:15 o'clock last evening. The end came peacefully, in fact, after a manner of a sweet repose.

Dr. Hermany was virtually a martyr to duty. Called to Frackville two weeks ago last Sunday to help combat the influenza epidemic which raged there, he worked day and night. Last Sunday he had to relinquish his professional duties and returning to his home here collapsed from the strain of overwork. For a time he showed improvements but death finally resulted from collapse. Here is another of the beautiful examples of which we have read in story and song of a man who not only loved his fellow man but was willing to risk his life for his fellowman. This is the nobility of sacrifice which throbs in the breast of truly great and good men.

The doctor was a son of Mrs. Mary Jane Bowman and the late Dr. Phaon Hermany. He was born in Mahanoy City November 14, 1864 and consequently was in his 54th year. He was a graduate of the Mahanoy City High School, attended Millersville State Normal School and a Philadelphia College of Pharmacy for a period, later having charge of a drug store. He entered Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, graduating in the class of 1892. Since graduation he has made his home here, and following the death of his father, an eminent physician, took over his practice.

Mahanoy City mourns the passing of a man of diversified activities in the culmination of the career of Dr. Hermany. He was a good citizen, possessed of sterling attributes of manhood and a thorough Christian gentleman. His zealousness in the departments of church work were exceptionally marked. In his death the First Methodist Episcopal church of this city loses a veritable diadem, an indefatigable worker, whose crown of righteousness shone with starry, brilliant lustre. In addition to discharging well his church duties he taught a class in the M. E. Sunday School. In Bible class work, or any service which pertained to the expansion or advancement of the kingdom, Dr. Hermany was always at the front. The bringing of the tabernacle and Evangelist Munhall to this city a few years ago was in large measure due to the doctor's fiery earnestness and ardent devotion to the cause, which he loved so well and for which he lived so fully and admirably.

Not only the city laments a Christian gentleman but she parts with a fine type of citizen and genial friend in his demise. In the great loss which the city shares with the bereaved relativesK the tender grace and memory of former days hangs about, a halo over his form mutely attesting the Master's "well done."

Dr. Hermany is mourned by his very estimable wife, Mary Mathias Hermany, also by his mother, and two sisters, Sue, wife of William Dyatt, manager for the Harwood Electric Company at Hazleton; and Miss Sallie, at home.

Fraternally Dr. Hermany belonged to the Mahanoy City, No. 357 F. and A. M., Mizpah Chapter, R. A. M., Ivanhoe Commandery and the Royal Arcanum.

AMERICAN WOMEN LEAD THE WORLD

They Have Beauty, Health and Brains

"A really beautiful woman is always a healthy woman", remarked one of our noted beauty specialists, "for true beauty comes from the blood and strong, steady nerves".

Rich, red blood, the fountain of life and youth, shows itself in a clear rosy skin, solid flesh, fine form and a keen bright mind. Red blooded women, with strong nervous vitality, are sought after by men; they are the hope and leaders of the world.

American women lead the world in health, beauty and intelligence, and their number is increasing. They have learned the value of Iron and Phosphates in keeping them in perfect condition.

"The number of weak, pale, fagged out, run down and nervous women is bound to decrease rapidly, once the power of Phosphated Iron becomes more generally known", said a leading doctor. "There is not a reason in the world why women should not be strong, happy and a joy to look upon when the remedy is at hand.

"Phosphated Iron has accomplished wonders with my patients. It has restored health, vitality, strong nerves and happiness to whole families. It's the healthy, red, iron blooded, strong, phosphate-fed nerved men and women that enjoy life and lead in every work". Think it over!

To insure doctors and their patients getting the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to substitute pills or tablets. Insist on capsules.

"IN FLANDERS FIELDS"

Many beautiful poems have been written since the beginning of the present war, but none of them was so near perfection in the subject, "The Soldier," by Rupert Brooke, who died at Gallipoli, and "I Have a Rendezvous With Death," by Alan Seeger, which rendezvous the young American unflinchingly kept on a battlefield of France, have been highly praised, but I consider that "In Flanders Fields" is worthy to rank with these. It is from the pen of Lieutenant Colonel John McCrea ,a Canadian physician of distinction. The poem was written in a hospital close behind the front line in a little leisure that was his between the demands of his desperately wounded patients.

Mr. McCrea died in his own hospital, a victim of pneumonia. He left no hint as to the source of his inspiration, but there is little doubt that he found it in the legend that the poppies in Flanders bloom more crimson and plentiful when they spring above the graves of fallen soldiers. Mention has been made again and again in this war of the poppies that have ensanguined the fields of Flanders after they have known the scarlet dye of human lifeblood.

Correspondents who comment on the profusion with which this flower, with its suggestive hue, covered the ground were only repeating an observation made frequently in the centuries that have seen this region of the battlefield of Europ. As far back as the battle of Landen, fought between the English and French in 1693, the phenomenon was noted. An Englishman, visiting the battlefield the following summer, described in a letter home the spreading waves of poppies on the field that was yet strewn with the wreckage of battle. Macaulay, writing in his history of that historic struggle, made the letter the basis for the following paragraph:

"The next summer the soil, fertilized with 20,000 corpses, broke forth into millions of poppies. The traveler, who, on the road from Saint Tron to Tirlemont, say the vast fields of rich scarlet spreading from Landen to Neerwinder, could hardly help fancying that the figurative prediction of the Hebrew prophet was literally accomplished, that the earth was discharging her blood and refusing to cover the slain."

After Waterloo the poppies again spread thier crimson coverlet above the dead. The blossoms, marked in the center with the sign of the cross, which legend says symbolizes the blood which dripped into them from the pierced feet of Jesus have had much cause since 1914 to blow between those other crosses "row by row." War takes our best, it has been so often said, and the pity is that those who first lifted the torch could not live to see its light beginning to shine with a surer radiance. Let it be hoped that it is given to the poet surgeon, and those who sleep with him under the crosses, rude wooden and velvet petaled, to know that the poppies have not bloomed in vain in Flanders fields.

Died In Prison

POTTSVILLE, Oct. 22.—That the "flu" was not conquered in the county prison by any means was evidenced yesterday when Charles Navulski, of Shenandcah, who was serving a short term, died in the prison hospital and severti new cases were removed to the hospital building at the orders of Warden Morgan.

There are now nearly a dozen cases and several of the patients are in dangercus conditions, but Prison Physician Householder is of the opiaion that the disease has reached its highest point and that in future the cases will be convalescent.

FEASTED EYES ON HALF BARREL FORGOT GRAVE

On his way to the cemetery to help dig a grave for a friend Sunday morning, John Jafrouchik, espied a half barrel of beer in the creek between A and B streets. John forgot all about the grave which was to be dug and jumping into the channel (for he had on his boots) grabbed the keg and yelled "it's mine" and it was. He stood guard over it while a friend hurried for a ladder and rope. After some difficulty the precious—highly precious—cargo of amber fluid was pulled along the uprights of the ladder. A crowd of 300 people who had gathered about the scene yelled "hurrah, good boy!" John with a broad smile and his mouth running hurriedly rolled the keg to his home.

At 7 o'clock Monday morning a pint of beer remained in the keg.

Behold a mystery—how did the keg of beer get into the creek? Did it roll off some one's wagon? Surely no one is throwing away beer these days.

Taking the Bite Out of Tobacco

Refining the Magic Weed for a Mild Pipe Smoke

Practically every pipe smoker in town likes his tobacco mild, so he can smoke as many pipefuls as he wants, without getting his tongue nipped at every draw. Not much comfort in a strong, vicious tobacco; you need a tongue and a throat like a Kentucky mountaineer's to get any fun out of pure Perique or even fresh dried Burley.

Ever try to smoke tobacco just as it dries from the field? If you haven't—don't! It's so strong and harsh that two or three puffs will make the ordinary smoker's head spin like a top. They sell it in some districts of the South—a "twist" of it for a nickel. It's dry as dust and gives you a hot smoke that parches and scrapes your throat.

When you smoke, you want something fairly mild and soothing, cool and satisfying. Have you tried Honeymoon yet? The refining process of this popular brand is a very thorough one, and it results in a mild, biteless smoke that you can live with and enjoy, day after day.

If you could walk through the big Honeymoon factory, you would see many thousands of feet of floor space occupied by row after row of big casks, all full of leaf tobacco going through the refining process. There these casks rest, untouched, for three years. Then, after being thus aged and cured, the finest leaves of white Burley are selected from each cask, for Honeymoon grade, to undergo the final treatment.

Only high-class Union Labor prepares Honeymoon for your pipe, and in an absolutely sanitary and up-to-date factory. It's a brand good to smoke and fit to smoke.

In this town many thousands of smokers have taken to Honey Moon, like ducks to water. Sales have proved it's the mild smoke that most smokers want, a big value—10c and 15c. Buy it to-day at your tobacco store. Satisfaction or money back.

RECORD PRESS MAN PLAYS THE SAXOPHONE

Everywhere in France,
Sept. 26, 1918

Dear Friend (David Davies):

Hello, Dave! Come out into the world and let the people know you are alive. Gee, but you're a nice friend to a soldier. Promised to write to me and here I am thousands of miles away from the Record office and no news. I wouldn't write until I heard from you but I could not rest at nights thinking about you, so I changed my mind. It will be at least three weeks until you get this letter and probably it will be three months before you make up your mind to answer it and the war will be over then. Wake up, boy, your country's at war. Ha! Ha!

Well, Dave, how are you getting along? It seems ages since I had a letter from you and your letters are so interesting that I was looking forward to receive many of them but I was disappointed. I have only received five letters since arrival "over here" and it makes me feel blue when I see all the other boys getting mail from home and I just have to stand and look on. Of course I haven't as many relatives to write to me as some of the boys but I have many friends and I can't understand why the best of them don't write to me. So wise up now and let me hear from you. Well, old top, I have been to the front line five times, been face to face with "Fritzie," gave them a few pieces of lead for souvenirs, been under artillery and machine gun fire for two months and now I am in the band studying music and learning to be a musician. I suppose you have all heard about us being into the scrap so I won't go into details. Will tell you all about it when I come home. I put in application to try out for the band, made it and am now playing tenor saxophone. At present our regiment is at the front again giving the Germans hell and we are behind the lines. We band fellows don't go to to the front line, so we are behind the lines and have six hours' schooling on music every day. We have a fine leader and he is an "A" No. 1 instructor and easy to learn under him. On the first of next month we expect to go to Paris or some place near there to a Musical Conservatory for two months' schooling, so I ought to be a first-class musician when I come home—don't you think? We have a band of fifty pieces and it is rated as the 12th best in U. S. service, so you might know how I have to travel to keep up pace with them. Tell Pat Dwyer I am waiting to hear from him. Have to study a little now, so I will have to close. All the boys in Co. E are well and getting along fine. Will write you a longer letter next time. Best regards to T. C. and all the boys and hoping to hear from you soon,

I remain as ever,

Your friend,

Musician FRANCIS WHITAKER,
112 U. S. Inf. Band, A. E. F., via. N. Y.

SALTS IS FINE FOR KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Amendment to Article Nine, Section Eight

That section eight of article nine, of the Constitution be amended by striking out the said section and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 8. The method of determining such amount, so to be deducted, may be prescribed by the General Assembly. In incurring indebtedness for any purpose the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty (50) years from the date thereof, with provision for a sinking-fund sufficient to retire said obligations at maturity, the payment to such sinking-fund to be in equal or graded annual or other periodical installments. Where any indebtedness shall be or shall have been incurred by said city of Phila. for the purpose of the construction or improvement of public works of any character from which income or revneue is to be derived by said city, or for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves or docks owned or to be owned by said city, such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for, and may include the amount of, the interest and sinking-fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the perod of construction, and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred; and said city shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking-fund charges as required by section ten, article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of said work.

In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of the city of Philadelphia, at any time, there shall be deducted from such debt so much of the debt of said city as shall have been incurred, or is about to be incurred and the proceeds thereof expended, or about to be expended, upon any public improvement, or in the construction, purchase or condemnation of any public utility, or part therefor, if such public improvement or public utility, or part thereof, whether separately or in connection with any other public improvement or public utility, or part thereof, may reasonably be expected to yield revenue in excess of operating expense sufficient to pay the interest an sinking fund charges thereon. The method of determining such amount so to be deducted, may be prescribed by the General Assembly.

In incurring indebtedness for any purpose the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty (50) years from the date thereof, with provision for a sinking fund sufficient to retire said obligations at maturity, the payment to such sinking fund to be in equal or graded annual or other periodical installments. Where any indebtedness shall be or shall have been incurred by said city of Philadelphia for the purpose of the construction or improvements of public works or utilities of any character, from which income or revenue is to be derived by said city, or for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves or docks owned or to be owned by said city, such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for, and may include the amount of, the interest and sinking fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction, and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred and sinking-city shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking-fund charges as required by section ten, article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of said work.

ANAEMIA AND POOR BLOOD

How Mrs. Burnell's Daughter Recovered

Drewsville, N. H.—"My daughter was anaemic, had poor blood and sufferde from indigestion and bilious attacks. As Vinol had built up my son some time ago, I gave it to my daughter, she soon improved in health, and it has built her up and restored her haelth."—Mrs. N. Burnell.

The reason Vinol was so successful in Miss Burnell's case is because it contains beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptonates and glycerophosphates, the very elements needed to build up a weakened, run-down system, make rich red blood and create strength.

EPIDEMIC CONDITIONS VASTLY IMPROVED

POTTSVILLE, Oct. 22.—Conditions attending the influenza epidemic were vastly improved during the night and to-day and reports from the various sections showed that there were but 17,650 cases in Schuylkill and Northumberland Counties as against 25,000 or more, ten days ago. Most of the plague spots have been thoroughly cleaned up by the local and other doctors who have been working in this section and several of the emergency hospitals were either abandoned or about to be abandoned during the day.

In Minersville, Pottsville, Mahanoy City and Ashland which are the worse hit spots in the county, marked decreases were noted to-day in the number of cases and standing cases both; so that taken with the death rate, also decreasing, the physicians say that the ravages of the scourge are about ended.

While no steps have been taken to call off the quarantine measures, it was stated today that the quarantine of maintaining regulations against saloons would be taken up by the state to-morrow. If the quarantine against the drinking places is raised, it will be likely raised by the local authorities.

HOUSE OF COMMONS HOSTILE TO REPLY

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The majority of the members of the House of Commons are hostile to Germany's reply, regarding it as an attempt to split the Allies.

Solf's armistice plan is not sufficient.

The constitutional changes referred to which they point out are contained in a bill which has not yet been passed by the Reichstag.

FRENCH HAVE NO USE FOR REPLY

PARIS, Oct. 22.—The German reply gives no satisfaction to France.

President Wilson stated that the Allied command should state the conditions of an armistice.

It is possible that he will make no reply. In case he does France is utterly confident of his decision.

"Spokes"— and the Swift "Wheel"

What would you consumers think of a wheel without spokes?

What would you think of a man who would take any or all of the spokes out of a wheel to make it run better?

Swift & Company's business of getting fresh meat to you is a wheel, of which the packing plant is only the hub. Retail dealers are the rim—and Swift & Company Branch Houses are the spokes.

The hub wouldn't do the wheel much good and you wouldn't have much use for hub or rim if it weren't for the spokes that fit them all together to make a wheel of it.

Swift & Company Branch Houses are placed, after thorough investigation, in centers where they can be successfully operated and do the most good for the most people at the least possible cost.

Each "spoke" is in charge of a man who knows that he is there to keep you supplied at all times with meat, sweet and fresh; and who knows that if he doesn't do it, his competitor will.

How much good would the hub and the rim of the Swift "wheel" do you if the spokes were done away with?

CHILDREN ASKED TO PRAY FOR FOCH

BALTIMORE, Oct. 22.—Speaking at the celebration today in honor of Cardinal Gibbons' fiftieth anniversary as a bishop, Monsignor William Barnes, Catholic chaplain of Oxford University, England, asked the cardinal to appeal to the Catholic children of America to receive Communion for the intention of Marshal Foch, and told how that had been done by the English children when things looked darkest for the Allied cause.

He said that Marshal Foch had written him as follows:—

The act of faith which the children of Great Britain have made for my intention has profoundly touched me. Please express my gratitude to them and beg them to continue their prayers for victory of our just cause.

Since that, said Monsignor Barnes, Marshal Foch had sent the following:

I am still depending on the prayers of the children; ask them to go to Communion for me again and again.

'TIS SWITCHING HOUR ON SAT. NIGHT

When you arise Sunday morning, you will find the rest of the world, so far as you are concerned, entirely "on time" with you.

That will mark the end of daylight saving for this year.

One hour of time, which was "borrowed" March 31, will be returned to you intact. You will simply return to the time which was in use before that date—the time to which you always have been accustomed.

All traits, business and everything else will be running on the new time. Life will proceed exactly as before. The train you usually catch at 7.35 o'clock will leave at 7.35 by your watch if you are up to schedule.

There will be this oddity on the railroads: Persons who leave a railway station at, for instance, 2.15 o'clock Sunday morning, on a train schedule to land them somewhere else at 3.15, let us say, will find that they have made the journey in "nothing, flat." They will have left at 2.15 summer time, and arrived at their destination at 2.15 winter time.

Father Time will pay his bill to the people of the United States next Sunday.

He owes us one hour each. It was advanced to him last Easter Sunday morning, March 31, and he will repay it, without interest, between sunset of next Saturday and dawn of Sunday.

This will mark the end of America's first experiment with the plan known as "daylight saving." Plans which were on foot to continue the system in force through the winter have been definitely dropped and the law creating the change, which provided for the resumption of former time conditions on the last Sunday in October, remains in effect.

Therefore, before retiring next Saturday night, fix all watches and clocks one hour "slow" and when you awake Sunday morning your life will flow on the same as usual. You may either put in an extra hour of night life Saturday night and still go to sleep at the same time as has been customary with you all summer, getting just as much sleep at the usual time and enjoy an extra hour's sleep, arising at the same hour by the clock as usual. Suit yourself.

The daylight saving law took effect officially at 2 o'clock Sunday morning, March 31. That was the hour at which observatory and Government clocks and all railroad and other official time-pieces were changed, but the majority of Americans advanced their watches and clocks before retiring.

The official hour for the return to "sun time" is also 2 o'clock in the morning. All watches and some clocks will be turned back a full hour. Some clocks, it must be remembered, are so constructed that they cannot be turned back, but must be stopped for an hour and then set going again, picking up the correct time from another time-piece.

MAKING GOOD AT SIXTY-FIVE

Affections of the kidneys and bladdre are among the leading causes of early or helpless ages. Keep them clean and the other organs in working condition, and you will have nothing to fear.

AS TO ARMY MEDICAL OFFICERS

Pottsville, Pa.,
October 19, 1918.

To All Concerned:

From inquiries which have come to headquarters there is evidently misunderstanding in a few sections as to the position of the Army Medical Officers.

That there may be no confusion in the mind of any one the following is for the guidance of all concerned.

The members of the Army Medical Corps came to this district to aid the community to meet a crisis and help fight an epidemic. Their services are voluntary and are not rendered to the community in which they are stationed and not to any individual. No money should be paid to anyone, at any time, for any service rendered by a member of the Army Medical Corps.

WALTON A. LAWRENCE,
Lt. Col., M. C. U. S. Army.

Police Should Get Them

The police should get after a bunch of rowdies who nightly assemble on the hillside north of the 400 and 500 squares on East Railroad street and with sling shots break the windows of homes in that vicinity.
